

United Way reaches 95.5% of quota

Following a lunch complete with spirit-lifting merriment, hard music, James Eisenbeis, general chairman of the fall campaign of the Tri-Cities Area United Way, filled in the last figure on the fall sheet and announced that the campaign had reached 95.5 percent of its goal of $654,787.

The announcement was made at the fourth report meeting of the fall campaign Monday afternoon at the YMCA.

Accounting for nearly two-thirds of that total was Group "F", headed by Eisenbeis and United Way Executive Director Edward Reiske, with a total of $412,190 or 105.6 percent of the group goal. The group consists of the larger industry contributions.

This group had a previous total of $338,232 to which $73,958 was added for the fourth report meeting. Its group goal was $390,000.

Several businesses and industries were given gold awards for their participation in this year's campaign. Also, the employees of the Nestle Company were given special recognition for increasing their total contribution to the United Way by 362 percent over the 1979 total.

Others receiving gold awards were: Granite City Steel Co. and its employees, Illinois Power Co. and its employees, O'Brien Tire and Battery Service, Metro-East Industrial Supply and its employees, Archer Daniels Midland Processing Co. and its employees, Illinois Bell and its employees, the employees of Venice Township and the employees of the Morris Realty Co.

The goal for the 1980 fall campaign is $685,000 which is expected to be surpassed by the next and final report meeting scheduled for Wednesday, Dec. 10.

Group "D", business and commercial, headed by Mrs. Margaret Lee, reported the second best percentage of group goals with 85.1. The monetary total thus far is $58,937, which includes an additional $20,355 being reported. This represents an increase of more than 50 percent over the last report meeting total of $38,542.

The next group, in order of percentages, is Group "B", professions and private non-profit agencies and organizations, chaired by Dr. Joe Bauer, with 83.9 percent of its goal of $46,725. This group reported a total to date of $39,240 which includes $9,066 added since the last report.

Increasing its total contributions by nearly 50 percent since the last report meeting was Group "C", government employees, headed by Chris Pashoff. To a previous total of $22,021, $10,952 was reported Monday for a total of $32,973 or 82.5 percent of the group's goal of $39,925.

Group "E", industry, construction and transportation, chaired by Robert Jackson, reported a total thus far of $105,859 or 80.8 percent of its group goal of $130,885. The total at the last report meeting for the group was $82,912 to which $22,947 was reported Monday for the new total to date.

Adding more than a third of the last meeting total of $3,903, or $1,685, was Group "A", service clubs, organizations and individuals, chaired by George Moore.

This group reported a total to date of $5,588 or 67.9 percent of the group goal of $8,225.

After the group reports, Eisenbeis urged the group leaders not to let up and try to complete all of their accounts before the next report meeting. He voiced strong confidence that the campaign would reach and surpass its goal.

James V. Stack, president of Granite City Steel Co., praised the local United Way on its accomplishments thus far and gave special recognition to the group chairmen for their hard and unending work which he said was the only way that such a goal could be reached.

He noted the optimism of those involved with the United Way when the $685,000 goal was set. "Despite the obvious economic conditions at that time, a goal was set which seemed to be out of reach, but through hard work and determination it is virtually at hand," Stack said.

Buses needed, crowd tells officials, Bi-State

By GARY SCHNEIDER

In simultaneous meetings today, the Madison County Board in Edwardsville was expected to create a special transit district to raise funds for continuing Bi-State bus service here, while in St. Louis, the Bi-State Board of Directors were expected to approve a resolution drastically cutting Bi-State service in Illinois Jan. 1.

Carl Mathias of Granite City, an Illinois commissioner on the Bi-State Board, pledged at a meeting here

Monday night that the Bi-State Board will rescind today's action before Jan. 1, if the county agrees to create its own transit district and to levy a one-quarter-cent sales tax in the district to subsidize Bi-State bus service here.

Approximately 110 persons attended a meeting Monday night at the Nameoki Recreation Center to discuss the bus issue and the vast majority expressed their support of creating the transit district and levying the extra tax.

Among the officials attending the meeting were Bi-State Executive Director Charles Houghton; county board members Louis Whitsett, Morris Miles, William Webb, R.H. Worthen and Dan Partney. Mary Kane, administrative assistant to County Board Chairman Santa Claus, also was present and said Hagnauer is completely in favor of creating the district and is doing everything in his power to implement it.

Also present were State Rep. Sam Wolf (D-Granite City), Mayor Schuler of Granite City and others. Lois Wetton, an active advocate of the transit district, chaired the meeting.

Only two persons spoke in opposition to the plan. Clarence Hastings of Pontoon Beach said he did not like the transit tax "crammed down our throats," and said he felt the citizens should have an opportunity to vote on the issue.

A handicapped Granite City man, in a wheelchair, said there are not enough buses equipped for the handicapped.

Hastings' opposition was noted by the officials who said there is insufficient time to pass a referendum before the bus route would be cut Jan. 1. The county resolution is to create the transit board for only one year, during which, citizens may request that a referendum be held on bus funding for the 1982 calendar year.

The objection that there are too few buses for the handicapped was answered by officials who said local funding for Bi-State will enable this area to have more control over the types of buses and routes in Illinois.

Some hinted that Bi-State had picked the heaviest-traveled routes to eliminate in an effort to force the local area to accept a bus tax. When asked why they planned to eliminate the Pontoon Express, rather than the McKinley Bridge buses, the Bi-State officials gave no answer.

County Board Member Worthen detailed background on how the crisis began, noting that when the state increased its funding to Bi-State from 2-3nds of the state sales tax to 3-2nds, it

North Granite seeks ban on businesses

The residents of the North Granite area do not want any more businesses in their part of the city, at least according to a petition presented to the Granite City Council last night.

The issue of commercialization of North Granite was raised by a request, from Bill and Helen Scheider, who sought "B" business zoning at the rear of 2901 Circle Drive to operate a truck trailer repair business.

A petition bearing 18 signatures opposing the business was presented to the city's Plan Commission Nov. 17 and neighbors testified they feared more truck traffic, noise, air pollution from sandblasting operations and devaluation of nearby properties.

Because the property is bordered by Kienstra Concrete on one side and gas storage tanks on the other, and because the access to the property would be from 29th Street, not Circle Drive, the Plan Commission voted to approve the request.

At the last city council meeting, a delegation opposing the business zoning and the Plan Commission's action appeared and the aldermen heard from several of the residents. The aldermen voted last week to refer the matter back to the aldermen of the ward to investigate and make a recommendation.

At last night's city council meeting, Attorney Leon Scroggins appeared on behalf of the Scheiders and said the plan of the property the Scheiders had planned to use for the business, "has advised the purchasers, Mr. and Mrs. Scheider, she is no longer interested in selling. I ask that the petition be withdrawn."

The aldermen unanimously agreed to withdraw the rezoning action.

Robert Pickercell, a resident of North Granite, then was allowed to address the city council, and he said he did not understand how the Plan Commission could have approved of the trailer repair business, even though it received a petition bearing the signatures of 90 percent of the surrounding neighbors.

He gave the council another petition, this one bearing about 200 signatures, asking the council never to grant any more commercial zoning in North Granite, contending the area is "business saturated."

The aldermen received the petition, but declined to act on a blanket ban on future commercial or industrial rezoning. Alderman Sam Whitmer summarized the apparent mood of the council, saying, "I think every case should be taken on its own merit."

Mayor Schuler told the council the petition is simply "advisory."

Santa Claus is coming to town Friday

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
of the Press-Record

Santa Claus is coming to town Friday!

Performing his traditional role in opening the pre-holiday season in the Quad Cities, Santa Claus will arrive in the area Friday, arriving at the City Hall in Venice to greet assembled youngsters at 10 a.m.

The Venice location will be the first of four stops enroute to Santa's Cabin, located again this year in the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center in the 3700 block of Nameoki Road.

The cabin, where children may greet Santa from 12 noon until 8 p.m. Friday, will be under the sponsorship of Explorer Post 10-33 of the Granite City Police Department and directed by Officer Friendly Fred Hoffman.

Madison youngsters may see Santa at Third Street and Madison Avenue, where he will stop at 10:15 a.m. Friday.

Riding in a convertible, accompanied by two or three "elves" who will distribute candy treats, the "jolly old gentleman" will proceed north along Madison Avenue to 19th Street and greet young friends at 15th and Delmar Avenue at 10:45 a.m.

He will leave Downtown Granite City and travel north on Madison Avenue to Belleme Village Shopping Center to

Prosecution about to rest in Davis reckless homicide trial

By EDGURNEY

The trial of Arlin Davis, postponed several times since he was charged in connection with a fatal auto accident last New Year's Eve, was expected to conclude this morning.

Circuit Judge Victor Mosele indicated he would probably issue a verdict as soon as the trial ended. Davis had waived a trial by jury.

The prosecutor, Assistant Madison County State's Attorney Keith Jensen, was to call his 12th and possibly final witness this morning.

Defense attorney John Gitchoff of Granite City planned to call few if any witnesses, basing his defense instead on a rebuttal of the prosecution's witnesses.

Davis, 51, of the Holiday Mobile Home Park, was charged with reckless homicide, driving while intoxicated and driving on a revoked license in connection with the auto accident on State Aid 35. Killed in the accident were Granite City residents Larry Lehman, 42, and his two daughters, Nicole, 5, and Stacy, 1.

Scheduled to testify this morning was Dr. Stephen Spurgeon, who treated Davis shortly after the accident in the emergency room of St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City.

Spurgeon was expected to testify that Davis was intoxicated at that time.

Venice rescinds fire call restrictions

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record

At the suggestion of Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols, the Venice city council rescinded its action of Tuesday, Nov. 18, that would have stopped all fire calls outside the incorporated area of the city of Venice, effective Monday, Dec. 1.

The Venice Township Board, with their attorney Nick D. Vasiloff, were in attendance.

The city of Venice officials are charging that Venice Township owes the city approximately $18,000 in unpaid charges for fire calls.

The areas that could be affected are the Tri-City Regional Port Authority, the Benjamin Addition and Eagle Park Acres.

Several areas of dispute have arisen; there is a question of the exact billing dates, the city maintains the township was billed in January 1980 and the township maintains they were not billed until June 1980.

Another question that arose was if the Port Authority paid directly to the city or the township and who did the tenants pay, when and to what amount?

There were frequent verbal clashes between Venice Township Supervisor Christ N. Pashoff and Mayor Echols. Mayor Echols, on two occasions, had to be held back by the police to prevent an order when Pashoff would interrupt the discussion.

Echols asked, "Did the port authority pay anything to the township for fire calls?"

Pashoff replied, "No, they were paid nothing from the port."

Pashoff then declared that a week before Alderman John Ervin presented the bill, Ervin told him of several items the city needed.

Pashoff went on to maintain the township had given $8,800 to the city for various equipment during the year including $4,000 for a backhoe, $800 for tires for the backhoe.

Mayor Echols said, "I am not going to be held hostage by the township. This meeting is being held to resolve the fire call payment, not what you gave the city or the other cities."

When it was brought to the city's attention that the township had not

SAVE THE BUSES. Mrs. Virginia Webb, 2807 Cayuga St., addresses the public forum panel Monday night at the Nameoki Recreation Center. The forum was held to allow citizens—particularly bus riders—input to Madison County Board members before the transit district issue was to be decided today. She was responsible for obtaining 300 signatures of merchants and residents in favor of the district on petitions which were presented to the Granite City Council last week.

Veterans may call on claims

Illinois veterans who have questions about their claims or benefits from the Veterans Administration can call toll-free to their regional office in Chicago.

Veterans in nine Illinois towns need dial only a local number which will put them in touch with the veterans benefits division of the regional office, Donald Ramsey, director of the office, said.

Other veterans in the state can call toll free by dialing 1-800-972-5327.

Towns where there is a local number direct line are: Bloomington-Normal, 829-4374; Carbondale, 457-8161; Champaign-Urbana, 244-7505; Chicago, 663-5510; Decatur, 429-9443; East St. Louis, 274-5444; Peoria, 674-6901; Rockford, 968-6338; and Springfield, 789-1246.

ARREST DRIVER

Fessor Gray, 28, of 300 Allen St., Eagle Park Acres, was arrested in the 3000 block of Madison Avenue at 7 p.m. Saturday and was charged with careless driving and illegal transportation of alcohol. Police alleged his car was being driven in a reckless manner and when they stopped it, there were two open cans of beer and one full can in the auto. He was released on $70 cash bond.

Student benefits under social security plan

Social Security benefits can be paid to the children of current Social Security beneficiaries and survivors of insured individuals who die. The benefits are paid up to age 18 unless the child is a full-time student, in which case the benefits can continue until age 22.

These student benefits have helped many young people continue their education, according to Oliver Holmes, district manager, of the East St. Louis Social Security office. They have also been the source of some problems, said Holmes.

The problems usually arise when students fail to notify the Social Security office of a change in their status. They continue to qualify for benefit checks only so long as their school attendance is considered full time by the school they are attending. A student who drops a course could become ineligible if that action means he or she is no longer considered a full time student.

Another event that terminates student benefits is the marriage of the student. "Students who fail to notify Social Security of changes in their situation, run the risk of receiving benefits to which they are not entitled," said Holmes and it is often difficult for the young person to refund an overpayment.

If anyone has any question about his status under Social Security, Quad-Cityans may telephone the East St. Louis Social Security Office at 274-4100 or in many Metro East communities, a toll free number is available by asking the operator for Enterprise 1-855.

Bell to distribute directories

Illinois Bell's new telephone directory for Granite City area customers will be delivered beginning Dec. 5.

The directory cover features the State of Illinois as an industrial, agricultural and transportation hub of the country. The cover design is a four-color photograph of an original neodeposit pattern created and executed for Illinois Bell especially for the cover.

The design depicts the map of Illinois alongside and criss-crossed by farms, factory, barge, train, truck and airplane, emphasizing the strengths and attractions of the state.

A total of 5,953,000 of these specially designed covers will be printed in advance in four different sizes, and then localized for 96 of Illinois Bell-served communities.

About 34,900 copies of the new directory are scheduled for delivery to Granite City customers, according to Ken Evers, Illinois Bell manager.

As in the past, the directory features a customer guide section in the front of the book. The guide offers customers easy access to phone numbers of community service agencies in Granite

City and contains additional information on how to reach Illinois Bell for various service matters.

The guide also includes information on charges to install and change service, billing information and details on classes and comparative costs of residence service. Material on international calling and "Money-Saving Tips" also is included.

Evers suggests that customers who have not received their new directories by Dec. 19 call their service representatives. He also reminds customers to check old directories for important papers before discarding.

Farm year seen as up and down

SPRINGFIELD — In the spring and the fall, it was a very good year, weather-wise, for Illinois farmers.

Unfortunately, the summer came in between, with high temperatures and drought, and there went the bright prospects for most of the state's agriculture in 1980, says the state's cooperative extension service, based at the University of Illinois.

Not only did the weather not live up to its springtime promises, the whole growing season turned the tables on Illinois farmers, the service notes. The northern one-third of the state this year produced more of both corn and soybeans than the central section, because the northern segment had temperatures not quite so hot, and got some timely rains which were withheld from the central areas.

In southern and central Illinois, hardest hit by the drought conditions, corn yields varied from none to 140 bushels an acre, with zero to 50 bushels yields reported for soybeans.

The drought and high temperatures also produced some cases of aflatoxin contamination in new crop corn, but fortunately, extension advisers say, the condition was not widespread.

Buses needed

was with the stipulation that local funding should be provided before Jan. 1, or the subsidy would drop to 1/32nd of the tax collected. Bi-State then announced proportionate cuts in the bus service in Illinois.

If Madison, Monroe and St. Clair counties, the three using Bi-State buses, do approve a local one-quarter cent sales tax, the state subsidy will stabilize at 2/32nds of the state sales tax for this area, producing about a matching amount for that raised by a local quarter-cent tax.

He explained that under the resolution to go before the county board today, a three-member transit board would be created, composed of one mayor, one township supervisor and one a county board member, all from within the district.

He also said the county is considering a public implementation plan, providing ways of getting public input on types of services needed.

The question whether there will be a short time of discontinued bus service between Jan. 1 and the time a county resolution would begin generating money was not firmly answered.

Houghton said service would be continued under a "gentlemen's agreement", while the mechanics of collecting the money are worked out, but Commissioner Mathias said the route cuts will be ordered immediately, effective Jan. 1, and there may be some interruptions, unless that order is rescinded soon.

In order for the cuts to take effect Jan. 1, it is necessary for the Bi-State Board to act today, he said, in case the county does not pass the transit ordinance.

If the county board approves the resolution, action by Bi-State board will be rescinded, he pledged, and urged those present not to be concerned when they read in the newspapers about Bi-

State voting to cut the service.

Pat Unger, a citizen, said she feels the new transit board should establish a citizens' advisory committee, made up one rider from each area served. Her suggestion drew a round of applause from the audience.

Norma Mendoza, a citizen, said she thought a local transit board would improve service by Bi-State and might start interstate buses from Granite City to Alton, Edwardsville, Collinsville and other cities.

She said it is probably in the best interests of the area that the county boards are establishing the transit districts, since a referendum on the issue would likely fail. Some voters would feel the tax was accommodating a few, and not the majority.

All county board members present were in favor of creating the district and pledged to vote for it. Partney said he polled the 10 Quad-City area board members and all support the district.

Worthan, who is the county board's legislative committee chairman, said he had contacted each of the members representing areas in the transit district and 17 said they would be for the resolution, which requires only 15 yes votes to pass.

He said two Godfrey and two Wood River board members are against it and he expects opposition from some rural board members, unless the district boundaries are changed to exclude their areas.

A motion to amend the boundaries may be made at today's meeting by Bethallo or Godfrey members, it was indicated, Partney said. Bethallo.

Present boundaries include most of urban Madison County, including Alton, Godfrey, Wood River, East Alton, Edwardsville, Collinsville and Quad-Cities. The areas east of Collinsville and Edwardsville are not included.

Mayor Schuler said Monday night he is in full support of the district and had contacted many of the board members. Schuler, who has asked to be appointed to the transit board, and feels the motion creating the district will pass the county board today.

It was explained that a quarter-cent sales tax would raise approximately $2,300,000 per year in the three counties. Some in the audience challenged Houghton on the problems some riders face, including safety and cleanliness on the buses.

He said many problems can be solved by directly calling him. Efforts also are being made to better train the bus systems telephone operators to direct complaints to appropriate authorities.

Mathias said that creating a transit district should give this county better local control, and we will, at least, have a voice in where our money is spent.

Schuler suggested that this county will have its own advocate on bus service, as St. Louis County has with Gene McNary on the Missouri side of the river.

Mrs. Kane said Hagnauer will work as quickly as possible to create the district, appoint the board and "get things moving to fulfill all of the requirements."

Mrs. Wetton said she was very happy for the large turnout and commented, "I felt we did our thing last night. Those there gave their support. I believe there are 17 committed yes votes already and 15 are needed, we were told."

She said the quarter-cent sales tax may be difficult to collect, at first, and the county will need to make up new sales tax charts for the retailers. "Technically, we would collect one cent of tax on each $1 purchase, but what to charge on a $1 purchase is something to be worked out. Still, the program should not take more than three weeks to finalize."

The city-owned land is at the intersection of Klein and Bissell streets, formerly owned by John-Manville. Sansone Realty submitted the only bid for the property.

A private 92 unit housing development will be built on the location.

The matter will be discussed again at the next Venice council meeting Tuesday, Dec. 2.

In other council action an ordinance was passed approving the sale of approximately eight acres of land to the Sansone Realty Co., St. Louis, for $85,000.

Venice rescinds

budgeted any money for fire protection. Echols said, "Do you mean to tell me you assumed you would have no fires and make no provisions in the budget for fire payment as per our agreement?"

"What difference does it make if you got a bill or not if you had not appropriated any money in your township budget for fire protection. Did you assume you just were not going to have any fires for several years?" Echols asked.

Phashoff alleged that the township had agreed to pay $1,000 per quarter and the entire debt be paid in full by September 1981.

Echols replied, "We have no formal agreement on this $1,000."

Echols why not," acted on his suggestion of six months ago that leaders of Eagle Park, the port district, township and city sit down and try to work out a solution to this problem. There was no reply to the question.

Vasileff ask the city to rescind the action and noted that the township felt in fairness they should be sent a bill after each fire call.

He noted that the first fire call on the bill was Jan. 4, 1979 and it was not until 16 or 17 months later the township was put on notice.

Vasileff further pointed out that Venice Township recognized the obligation to the city.

"Vasileff said, 'We are asking for some time to take care of the obligation. I would ask that you give us until Jan. 1, 1981.'"

Alderman John Ervin said, "I would not want to make an agreement tonight until I meet with the treasurer of the fire department and get more information."

Ministerial group to elect

Mitchell Presbyterian Church will host the December meeting of the Quad-Cities Ministerial Association on Monday, Dec. 1, it was announced today by the Rev. Don F. Pierson, spokesman for the group. An election of officers is planned.

An optional event, beginning at 11:15 a.m. Monday, will feature a presentation by the Rev. Jeffrey Cheadle, pastor of the host church, who will speak on the topic, "Digging in a Buried City."

In conjunction with his talk, Rev. Cheadle will display artifacts dating in age from 3,000 to 500 B.C. A "brown bag" fellowship luncheon is scheduled for 12 noon, Rev. Pierson said.

The monthly agenda calls for the election of officers and a brief presentation of the YMCA program.

A special guest will be Dr. Tom Tupper, a staff member of the United Church of Christ area judiciary. He will address the group on the subject, "Authority in the Church."

All ministers in the area are cordially invited to attend Monday's activities.

Pastoral concerns and effective ministry are encouraged through the association's programs and fellowship, Rev. Pierson said.

Thieves take dishes, crystal

Juliana Marzluf, 2723 Harvey Place, reported at 1:25 p.m. Monday that thieves had stolen a quantity of dinnerware, crystal and silverware which she had in storage cartons in the basement of a friend's apartment building at 2433 Delmar Ave.

Among the items taken were eight place settings of dinnerware, valued at $210, salt and pepper shakers, $31, eight settings of silverware, worth $280, five cut crystal pedestal stem glasses, $125, and three knives worth $15.

Raising money against disease

Life Scout Steve Kusmierczak Jr. has completed his Eagle Scout service project.

Kusmierczak is a member of Boy Scout Troop 7, sponsored by St. Joseph Church, and serves the troop as senior patrol leader.

Steve's service project for the Eagle badge was operating a hot dog stand at the Mini-Mall in Crossroads Plaza. He spent many hours of time in planning and organizing his project.

His service project benefited the little known lethal children's disease, Reye's Syndrome. This disease mainly strikes children recovering from either the flu or chickenpox.

His service project was planned and completed with minimum adult supervision credited to his leadership abilities, according to Scout officials.

Steve is the son of Stephen and Ann Kusmierczak and has a brother, Joey, who will soon join Steve in Scouting.

Advisory Council elects officers

The Title I Parent Advisory Council met at Prather Junior High School and elected officers to serve for the 1980-81 year.

Those named for the ensuing term of office included Mrs. Sharon Crow, chairman, Mrs. Judith Arnold, secretary, Mrs. Shirley Jasudowicz, Prater representative to citywide PAC, and Mrs. Ruby Westbrook, alternate to PAC.

A discussion was also held on the current reading and math program.

Others attending were Mrs. Marilyn Wiser, Mrs. Rosemary Stanley, Deborah Stanley, Douglas Allen, Ron Simpson, reading teacher and Mrs. Helen Hall, math teacher.

200 attend Salvation Army Tree of Lights kickoff event

About 200 persons attended yesterday's Tree of Lights kickoff luncheon at the Salvation Army Community Center and heard special guest, Champ Summers of the Detroit Tigers baseball club, a former Madison athlete, discuss the world of professional baseball.

The Granite City Rotary Club moved its meeting to the community center to meet jointly with those at the kickoff luncheon.

Summers and his wife, Barbara, talked about the life of a professional baseball family and were well received, according to Tree of Lights Chairmen Robert Karandjef, who introduced the speaker and Mrs. Summers.

Summers talked about the high salaries in baseball, saying that to him, a large salary is not important, although he has just signed a handsome four-year contract. He said he just loves to play baseball.

The team owners are responsible for the large salaries and should be aware in the future that they may harm baseball, in the long run, he stated.

The 'pro' reflected on the good work that the Salvation Army is doing locally and said there is a lot of baseball talent in Granite City remaining to be discovered.

Local athletes have an unfortunate disadvantage, due to the weather here, because they play fewer games and have less opportunity to be discovered by talent scouts.

Al Barnes Jr., sports information director of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, and Barnes' wife, Joyce, were credited for encouraging the young ballplayer when he played for SIUE and for helping Summers get his career started. They were introduced and thanked at the luncheon.

A question and answer period followed Summers' talk.

Rites today for Eulys L. Clonts

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. today, Nov. 26, at Bob Thomas Memorial Mortuary Chapel, 2205 Pontoon Road, for Eulys L. Clonts, 82, of 4000 Sara St.

He died at 5:35 a.m. Monday, Nov. 24, 1980, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. della Irene (Murphy) Clonts; one son, two daughters, a sister, 14 grandchildren and 28 great-grandchildren.

Burial will be in Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

Stolen moped is recovered

Two 13-year-old boys riding a moped on the wrong side of the road without a headlight were stopped by an officer near the railroad crossing on West Pontoon and Nameoki roads at 6:10 p.m. Monday.

The boys, one from Madison and the other from Granite City, told police they were walking on the east side of the railroad tracks when they saw two youths, between 15 and 17 years old, get off the machine and run away, leaving the machine running.

They decided to ride the moped to the Johnson School playground, the boys said. A check was run on the bike and it was found registered to David Sheppard, 325 Wilson Park Lane.

The owner was contacted and discovered the machine had been stolen from a shed, inside a fenced yard, where it had been stored for the winter.

The moped had been damaged and the ignition appeared to have been "hot wired," the officer said. Both boys were released to their parents, pending an interview Tuesday with Juvenile Officer Dusan Gagh.

The Granite City boy, who allegedly was operating the machine, was charged with failing to obtain a driver's license.

—Partney alleges milk cartons short—

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

Students in the Granite City public schools paid for approximately $3,000 worth of milk which they did not receive, due to improperly filled milk cartons, David Partney, a member of the Granite City Board of Education charged Monday afternoon.

During a visit to the Press-Record, Partney showed eight sealed one-ounce cartons of milk packaged by Reeb's Dairy. He said he took the cartons, at random, from the coolers at Logan School and the pre-school center.

"I may be wrong, but if these are like the ones I tested yesterday, they will all be short of eight ounces," Partney predicted. He displayed an eight-ounce measuring cup which he said he had tested at the Prairie Farms Dairy and it was shown to be an accurate measure.

Then, one by one, he emptied the milk cartons into the cup. The first carton contained 7 1/2 ounces. After washing and drying the measuring cup, the second one-ounce carton was poured in. It measured 7 1/2 ounces.

The third carton had a dent and small puncture hole in it. It contained only 6 1/2 ounces. "I have been told this milk has a lot more leakage than the previous brand we used. The people who have to clean out the coolers every day have told me that," Partney contended. Subsequent cartons opened contained 7 1/4, 7 1/2, 7 3/4, and 6 1/2 ounces, Partney and two witnesses agreed.

Partney said he conducted the same test on Prairie Farms milk cartons, purchased at random from local stores, and found all to contain eight ounces.

"Over my objections, the school board decided to use Reeb's Dairy to supply milk this school year, rather than retaining a local firm, Prairie Farms Dairy, which pays taxes here. Reeb's bid only 73-1000ths of a cent per carton less than Prairie Farms on white milk and only 55-1000ths of a cent less on chocolate milk, which is our biggest seller."

"I felt we should go with the local firm for the 55-1000ths of a cent difference, Partney contended, adding, "Now it appears we are being shorted from a half-ounce to more than an ounce per carton, that amount of money seems even less," he stated.

During September and October, the school district sold 251,238 cartons of milk in the school cafeterias, including 182,974 half-pints of chocolate and 68,262 cartons of two percent white milk, according to purchasing records, Partney said. The chocolate milk sold for a total of $23,146, he added. Assuming that one ounce was missing from each carton, one-eighth of that amount, or $2,893 would be for milk sold, but not served to the students, he contended. The district also sold 68,262 cartons of white milk for $7,579. If one-eighth of that was missing, the students would have been shorted $999 worth of milk, he said.

The total then would be $3,892 worth of milk the students were shorted in just two months, he added.

He said O.L. Overhulser, director of cafeterias, has been using a weight scale to determine if the cartons contain eight ounces. However, according to Partney, that method is not accurate, since liquid weights are not measured the same as dry material.

Partney also contended that the district has been paying Reeb's too much for milk shake mix, which was purchased without competitive bidding the beginning of the school year, until he pointed it out. When he requested that there be bidding on the shake mix, Reeb's submitted bids 50-cents lower per gallon on the chocolate mix and 30-cents lower per gallon on the vanilla mix.

"What that means is that we have been paying 50-cents too much for chocolate shake mix all this time, until I got the board to bid it out," he contended.

Partney marked each of the half-pint milk cartons he tested with the school where he obtained it and the amount of milk it had contained was to present all of the dozens of empty cartons to the board of education at a special meeting of the board last night.

Details of that meeting appear elsewhere in today's Press-Record.

MEASURING CONTENTS. School Board Member David Partney measures the chocolate milk from a half-pint (8 ounce) milk container taken from a Granite City school. The liquid in eight containers was measured and each contained less than eight ounces.

On recruiting duty here

Private First Class Christopher Gergen of Edwardsville, has an Army assignment not far from home. For the next 30 days, he will work as a recruiter aide at the Army recruiting station at 3675 Nameoki Road in Granite City, where he enlisted.

Pfc Gergen will assist the Army recruiters in Granite City by linking them with the young people of the area. He will talk about his Army experiences with interested seniors at area high schools, including Edwardsville High School, where he graduated in 1978. He is the son of Zene and Eleanor Gergen and the husband of Le Ann Gergen.

Why did Pfc Gergen join the Army? "I wanted to be a soldier," he explains.

The recruiter aide underwent basic training at Fort Dix, N.J., and advanced individual training at Fort Belvoir, Va. He trained as a surveyor, and is assigned at Fort Lewis, Wash. State. Pfc Gergen chose his skill training specialty, and was guaranteed it in writing by the Army when he enlisted. It was at Fort Lewis that Pfc Gergen was approved for recruiter aide duty. The program is highly competitive and selection reflects outstanding ability. Pfc Gergen was named "Soldier of the Month" for September, 1980.

Pfc Gergen is on hand at the Granite City Army Recruiting Station to talk with interested young people about his experiences as a recent Army enlistee. He and the recruiters will be glad to discuss the skill

Makes threat with pistol

While riding in a car with two relatives at 1:10 p.m. Monday, James Green, 4510 Kirkpatrick Homes, reported someone driving a blue 1973 Ford sedan began following their vehicle from a point near Johnson and Nameoki roads.

Upon reaching the relatives' home in the 2200 block of Ohio Avenue, a man with a pistol in his hand jumped from the vehicle, followed them and pointed the weapon at Green, saying "I'm going to kill you, punk," Green said.

Green ran into the house and called police, but the man had driven away before officers arrived.

The gunman was described about 6 feet, 2 inches tall and weighing 220 pounds. He had short brown hair and a mustache and was wearing a plaid shirt and jeans.

AUTO BURGLARY
Nancy Schnefke, Rural Route 1, reported at 11:15 p.m. Monday that someone had entered her vehicle in the parking garage at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and stole an amplifier from the glove compartment and two speakers, which had been bolted to the rear floor.

BREAK BARRICADES
Foreman Don Houtz of Illinois Power Co., reported Monday that 17 barricades placed by the utility firm on the shoulder of Carill Road late last week, six had been stolen and 11 were knocked over by a vehicle and damaged.

G. Rollin Henn memorial committee has been formed

A committee has been formed to prepare a memorial to the late G. Rollin Henn, a veteran Boy Scout leader who died Tuesday, Sept. 9.

The basic committee consists of Thomas Hooks of Maryville, chairman; Jeff Tolliver of Glen Carbon, treasurer; W.F. "Mick" Strange of Madison, secretary, and Mike Durbin of Highland, Ted Serum of Granite City, Mike Bilbrey of Venice, John Richard Hooks of Madison and Mrs. Mary Henn, of Granite City, wife of the deceased, as committee members.

All of the committee members are Vigil Honor members of the Cahokia Lodge, Order of the Arrow, and knew and worked with Mr. Henn as "Uncle Rollin," both as youths and as adults in the various programs of Scouting—particularly at Camp Sunnen, the Arrow and Exploring.

Mr. Henn was one of the founders of Camp Sunnen in 1953, was adult advisor to the Cahokia Lodge for many years, and was one of the founders of Law Enforcement Explorer Post 10-4.

The Order of the Arrow is a national brotherhood of honor campers in the Boy Scouts of America and the Vigil Honor is the highest honor an Arrow member may obtain. "Uncle Rollin" was the senior Vigil Honor member of the lodge until his death. Strange now is the senior Vigil member of the lodge. Being asked to serve with the committee will be the current and immediate past chiefs of the local lodge, the lodge volunteer adviser and the chairman of the Cahokia Mound Council camping committee. These will change every year as a new chief is elected and various new appointments are made.

Area scouts, scout leaders and friends of the late Mr. Henn are being asked to contact any member of the committee with any suggestions on a fitting memorial.

Persons wishing to make suggestions on a memorial also may write the Henn Memorial Committee, Post Office Box 10-4, Madison, Ill., 62260.

Mr. Henn was involved in the Boy Scout movement since 1924 and has held nearly every office in the program of the BSA from scoutmaster to president of the Cahokia Mound Council.

EDUCATIONAL GIFT. Madison County Jail education director, Major Edwin Knezevich, left, receives approximately 200 books for the jail library, donated by the Friends of Lovejoy Library at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The books were presented by Friends' President Raymond Spahn, right, and SIUE Art Educator Mrs. Frances Treteault, who initiated the gift.

Books donated to county jails

The Friends of Lovejoy Library organization at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has proved itself a friend to the surrounding communities as well, with its recent contributions of books to both the Madison County and St. Clair County jails.

Working in cooperation with Frances Treteault, art education specialist at SIUE, and the SIUE Lovejoy Library, the organization has donated approximately 200 "good novels and fiction books" to the two jails.

"We are impressed with the Friends' immediate and generous response to the need of books for both county jail libraries," Mrs. Treteault said. "We hope other people will now be aware of the need prisoners have for reading and study materials and contribute to these new libraries," she added.

The gifts are the start of an art education program still under exploration by the SIUE department of art and design. The department is currently working with area institutions and agencies to determine ways art and education can play a part in each agency's program.

With the Friends' gift, the county jails of Madison and St. Clair are the first agencies to begin development of art educational programs within their facilities. Major Edwin Knezevich, Madison County jail education director, and Cheryl Frost, psychological consultant for court services, 20th Judicial Circuit, will be directing the programs within their departments and will be working in cooperation with Mrs. Treteault to develop the programs further.

Mrs. Treteault is hoping to create a program similar to one she helped make successful in the Larimer County Jail in Ft. Collins, Colo. The program there was started in 1974 by two former prisoners and as a result, prison crime dropped 98 percent the first six weeks. The program began with a small library and progressed to an efficient library system and further to classes in various forms of the arts.

"With the program, the prisoners realized there were people who cared about what happened to them there (in the prison) as well as when they got out," Mr. Treteault said. "The prisoners gained respect for each other and monitored each other as well. The program was a privilege they didn't want to lose," she said.

Mrs. Treteault said the program in "innovative in county jails" and added that both the Madison County and St. Clair County jails are model facilities for initiating such a program.

The art education area in the department of art and design recently surveyed other county institutions where areas of confinement exist to determine a need and interest for art and education. The response was overwhelming, according to Mrs. Treteault.

"Of all the agencies we've contacted throughout the two-county area, only one has given us a no answer," she said.

With this 99 percent positive response, Mrs. Treteault and the art and design department are encouraged. "We are hoping to develop programs where art can be used as a vehicle for human development and communication. These programs will be beneficial to both cooperating institutions and the art education participants," Mr. Treteault said.

Madison 'City Demos' plan Christmas party

The Madison "City Demos" met at the Madison Recreation Center on Monday, with Zella Niehaus presiding. The meeting was opened with the pledge of allegiance and an evening prayer led by Chaplain Elizabeth Yankoff. Two new members were welcomed into the organization, Mrs. Charles (Maxine) Skinner and Mrs. Mary Moore. A donation of $25 was voted to be given to the local Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

The club's Christmas party will be held at the Madison Firemen's Hall on Monday, Dec. 15. Guests will be charged $10 per person and should contact Secretary Hilda Graville or President Mrs. Niehaus if interested in attending. The women will have a $4 gift exchange. Reports on the Ethnic picnic and Black Cat dance were given. All members were thanked for participating.

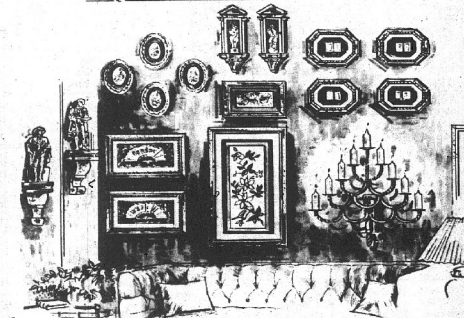

Pam Dymas and Eleanor Armour served refreshments to the following: Christine Green, Helen Knezevich, Mary Bucherich, Dollie Smith, Winnie Sasyk, Julia Voloski, Judy Donaldson, Julia Goclan, Mary Rogenski, Frances Troits, Sadi Wojcik, LaVerna Harris, Thelma Tuggle, Laura Peach, Cindy Heady, Irma Manning, Joan Wilkens, Catherine Hakkarainen, Marie Hoekstra, Mollie Besserman, Angela Vavra, Pat Westwood, Maxine Costoff, Ida Dant, Mary Moore, Maxine Skinner, Liz Yankoff, Zella Niehaus and Hilda Graville.

Jaycees' gift—$6,000

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

The Granite City Jaycees will donate $6,000 to the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America, it is announced this week by Larry Beyers, president.

The generous gift was designated to the Boy Scouts to help replace canoes and other equipment which was destroyed or extensively damaged during a storm the past summer at Camp Sunnen.

Camp Sunnen, near Potosi, Mo., is the Boy Scout camping facility used by hundreds of boys from the Quad-Cities and nearby communities each summer.

The Jaycees voted to present the gift at their meeting last week. Additionally, the young men's service organization authorized a $850 donation to Granite City High School North's wrestling team, to enable the squad to participate in a mid-season wrestling tournament at Quincy, it was learned.

John Royce, public relations director, said the Jaycees are delivering Thanksgiving baskets to 18 needy families in the Granite City area today. The project is under the supervision of Tommy Schrum.

A new program geared to area youth, 10 years and older, is a "Shooting Education Project" through which young people may become familiar with firearm safety procedures, according to Jim Joyce, chairman.

The initial session will take place from 12 noon until 3 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 29, at the Jaycee Clubhouse, 1855 Poplar St.

A second session is scheduled Saturday, Dec. 6, Royce said.

Further information may be secured by attending the program Saturday, or by calling Royce at 876-7086.

Concluding this week is the annual Bowling Sweepstakes, sponsored by the Jaycees for league bowlers at Bowland and Brunswick Tri-Mor bowling lanes. The project is being supervised by Danny Fricke.

Proceeds from the bowling event enables the young men's service club to escort underprivileged youngsters on a traditional shopping trip at Christmastime, Beyers said.

Jaycee membership is limited to young men between the ages of 21 and 35 years, the officer explained.

The club is planning a drive to recruit new members, starting in January, he advised.

Funding granted to help curb cost of health care

In an effort to help in the national endeavor to curb the spiraling costs of health care in the United States without control the quality, the American College of Physicians (ACP) has announced that it has received funding for a new project designed to evaluate specific diagnostic tests and therapeutic procedures utilized by doctors.

The College's intent is to identify and recommend the optimal use of these tests and procedures and eliminate those that are outdated.

To accomplish these goals, the ACP has received a three-year $650,412 grant from The John A. Hartford Foundation to develop a review and evaluation office in Philadelphia, the new project, to be called the Clinical Efficacy Assessment Program (CEAP), is designed to evaluate and make recommendations to the medical community on the scientific merit and usefulness of many non-surgical diagnostic tests and procedures.

The Hartford Foundation, located in New York, makes grants to stimulate reform of the health care payment system and to promote efficient energy use. The Foundation also sponsors a fellowship program for young physicians just starting careers in biomedical research. The grant to the ACP is part of the Foundation's health care payment system reform program.

Project director for the CEAP will be J. Sanford Schwartz, MD, assistant professor of medicine at the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine.

Dr. Schwartz is also a senior fellow at the Leonard Davis Institute of Health Economics Wharton School and National Health Care Management Center, University of Pennsylvania.

In commenting on the new grant, Robert H. Moser, MD, ACP Executive Vice President of the 50,000-member ACP, said, "The College realizes that the rising cost of medical care contains many elements that are beyond the power of physicians to control. We cannot control inflation nor the 'State of the Art' which produces new diagnostic and therapeutic tools—most of which are wonderful but expensive. We also cannot control the public appetite for medical care. We can, however, control through education by providing reliable information for the clinical usefulness of existing tests and procedures—that will enable physicians to select appropriate tests and therapies and abandon those that are out-of-date or ineffective."

This new ACP program certainly will not be the total answer to rising costs of health care—but it is a big step and it is within the power of physicians."

The funding for the CEAP will be used to expand ACP activities first begun in 1976 with the initiation of the Medical Necessity Project (MNP). For the past four years, the College, working in conjunction with Blue Cross-Blue Shield, has been evaluating and making recommendations to the medical community on non-surgical laboratory tests that were generally considered worthless and/or obsolete.

These evaluations were made in many cases after thorough ACP review and consultation with other national medical organizations including the Council of Medical Specialty Societies, the Health Insurance Association of America, and the National Center for Health Care Technology.

Recently, however, the complex and controversial nature of many of the tests and procedures forwarded to the College for review has increased. To determine the scientific basis and usefulness of these laboratory tests and procedures, more sophisticated methods of investigation and review were needed.

The Hartford Foundation grant will enable the ACP to implement an expansion of the Medical Necessity Project into the Clinical Efficacy Assessment Program. With the addition of staff and resources, the College will have a broader base from which to monitor the work of other organizations engaged in similar pursuits throughout the world; conduct research; contact experts across the spectrum of medicine and science; convene review panels; produce reports; and—of greater importance—to determine the impact of College recommendations from the aspects of declining use of tests and procedures that were studied and assess the actual dollar savings to the public.

Thus far, with few exceptions, the ACP's Medical Necessity Project recommendations have received widespread endorsement from the medical community. Coincidentally, a decline in the ordering of some tests, found by the College to be outmoded has resulted in significant savings.

For example, in 1976 the ACP studied the Thyroid function test Protein Bound Iodine (PBI). It was determined that more effective tests had superseded the PBI. An evaluation of Federal Employee Program claims data by Blue Cross-Blue Shield showed that PBIs decreased 89.9 percent from 1975 to 1979 (or 3,191 claims in 1975 to 323 in 1979). Extrapolating this data to the entire Blue Shield population, this represents a savings of approximately $600,000.

Another direct result of ACP recommendations was reported to the public in February 1979 at a press conference held by Walter J. McNeerney, president of Blue Cross-Blue Shield. Blue Shield announced that the association would recommend to its constituent plans that they no longer reimburse "routine admission batteries" unless the physician ordered them specifically on an individual basis.

Park Board President seeking re-election

George Sykes, president of the Granite City Park Board, has announced that he intends to seek re-election to the board in voting April 7, 1981.

Sykes noted that the park board election will, for the first time, be combined with the city elections under the Illinois Election Consolidation Law, which is expected to greatly increase the number of persons who will vote for park board members this year.

Sykes, 41, was first elected to the park board in 1975 and has continuously served since that time, including serving the past two years as board president. He also served as president of the YMCA Soccer Association recently.

He is a 1957 graduate of Granite City High School and received a bachelor of science degree in business administration from Southern Illinois University in 1962.

He serves as branch manager of financial controls for McDonnell Douglas Corp.

Sykes and his wife, Carolyn, have three children, George Sykes Jr., age 17, Craig, 10, and Karen, 6.

The text of his official announcement follows.

"At this time, I am announcing my intention to seek a second term on the Granite City Park Board of Commissioners.

"The park district continues to be an integral and vital part of our community. Now, perhaps more than ever, people are looking for leisure and recreational activities closer to home. During this period of seemingly uncontrolled inflation and high interest rates, the park district continues to provide excellent programs and services, most at little or no additional cost to our residents.

"I feel my personal efforts, combined with the dedication of the total board have contributed greatly to making the park district the pride of a great city.

"When I first ran in 1975, I pledged I would work for continued growth in both programs and facilities.

"Foremost in my mind will be my obligation to consider carefully the cost of any project and its impact on the taxes paid by our residents. After all, I too am a taxpayer.

Church Women plan blood drive

Church Women United in the Quad Cities has scheduled an organizational meeting at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, Dec. 31.

Also being encouraged to attend the Dec. 3 meeting are chairmen of church groups who take part in the summer blood drives, as well as others in the community who are interested in the blood program, the organizers said.

Chairmen of all churches planning to participate in the blood drive are being urged to attend the meeting at N. Meeki United Presbyterian Church, 1700 Pontoon Road, when materials will be distributed and information relayed.

The Red Cross bloodmobile unit will be stationed at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, Johnson, and Pontoon Roads, from 2 p.m. until 6:45 p.m. Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 29 and Dec. 30.

DENVER BURGLARY
About $15 worth of food stamps, a pair of sunglasses and a record album are known missing after a burglary at the home of Carol Whitford, 2619 Denver St., between 10 a.m. and 6:50 p.m. Saturday. A door had been left unlocked, so there was no forced entry, police were told.

Prosecution about

the first two days of the trial, called several witnesses who he hoped could provide, through their observations and judgments, sufficient evidence that Davis was intoxicated at the time of the collision.

The accumulation of circumstantial evidence by the prosecution was apparently necessary because of Mosele's ruling in September that a blood sample showing Davis was intoxicated could not be admitted into evidence. The law does not permit the introduction of a blood sample in court proceedings without the defendant's consent.

Tuesday afternoon's session in Madison County circuit court concluded among speculation that Jensen would seek to have Mosele consider—as evidence—hospital records that reportedly indicate Davis' blood alcohol limit exceeded the legal minimum for intoxication.

Jensen, during Tuesday's session, stated he would call Spurgeon to testify Davis was intoxicated. At the same time, Jensen noted that St. Elizabeth's records on Davis indicated the percentage of alcohol in Davis' blood was .204. (The legal minimum for intoxication is .10 percent).

Jensen, after court adjourned Tuesday, declined comment on whether he would seek to have the judge consider the blood test results.

Tuesday's session also included a disagreement on whether Jensen had followed proper court rules in calling certain witnesses who testified they had observed Davis closely at the hospital after the accident and concluded he was intoxicated.

Mosele took under advisement a motion by Gitchoff to exclude the testimony of the emergency room nurse who treated Davis, Connie Pilat, and a hospital security guard, Michael Waddell.

Under court rules, both sides are supposed to provide the other with copies of statements and materials they plan to introduce into evidence. Gitchoff said he did not object to the testimony of a second hospital security guard, John Bringer, whose testimony Tuesday Gitchoff apparently hadn't expected.

Bringer, who said he had been a counselor for nine months at an alcohol rehabilitation unit and was trained in recognizing the characteristics of an intoxicated person, testified he also had observed Davis on New Year's Eve at St. Elizabeth and believed Davis was drunk.

Gitchoff, in his cross-examination of Jensen's witnesses, sought to question their judgments.

He asked them if Davis' alleged slurred speech, slow mannerisms and belligerent behavior at the hospital could not have been due to the injuries he suffered in the accident, rather than intoxication.

He also sought to show that the alcohol they said they smelled on Davis' breath may have come from alcohol spilled on his clothing. A broken Seagram's 7 whiskey bottle had been found in Davis' car.

Jensen also called several witnesses Monday and Tuesday who said they had seen Davis drinking at three area taverns in the hours preceding the accident. Gitchoff also challenged their recollection of the exact number of drinks Davis had had, and in getting them to state they had not seen Davis drunk that day.

Monday's session also included a sometimes stormy interrogation involving Gitchoff and Trooper Rich Crnkovich of the Illinois State Police, who responded to the accident and investigated it.

Crnkovich at times appeared to lose his composure when Gitchoff questioned him about how Crnkovich had concluded that Davis' vehicle crossed the center line of State Aid 35 and struck the Lehman car head-on.

Lehman's wife, Beverly, was the first witness called. She stated in her brief testimony that her husband had not been drinking and had not taken drugs before they left their Granite City home that day en route to Caseyville.

Mrs. Lehman, 27, Caseyville, who was injured in the accident which claimed the lives of her husband and children, was in the courtroom for Monday and Tuesday's sessions.

Also attending were her mother, Carmen May of Caseyville, and Beverly's sister, Betty Cromer of Madison. Sitting with Mrs. Lehman and her family during part of the trial was the Rev. Herman Neunaber of Beverly's church, Faith Lutheran of O'Fallon.

Funeral arrangements were directed by Skillin-Snyder Mortuary of Fillmore, Calif.

Bill to regulate mobile homes in GC needs more work, council agrees

By GARY SCHNEIDER of the Press-Record

Some "very good questions" concerning proposed controls by Granite City on mobile homes in the city were raised by one mobile home resident at last night's Granite City council meeting, according to Mayor Paul Schuler.

Kenneth Escott, 1642 Spruce St., contended it would be "discriminatory and possibly illegal" for the council to regulate who can reside in which mobile home, when there are no such restrictions on houses.

"I strongly object that a person who has obtained a permit and lived in a mobile home must get approval of all the surrounding members of the community (and the city council) to sell it."

"If I sold a house, no law says I have to get the approval of the neighbors. There is no law to keep it (a house) from turning into rental property," Escott said.

Due to objections by some who claim mobile homes have been moved into their neighborhoods under the pretense that elderly or familiar persons would occupy the unit and then have found that the mobile homes have been rented to strangers, the council has been considering two ordinances to regulate the occupancy of mobile homes, similar to the regulations used by Madison County in the unincorporated areas.

One of those proposed ordinances, which would have barred mobile homes from being placed anywhere in the city, except in approved mobile home parks, was tabled by the council last night on the suggestion of Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward, who said that ordinance "is like a live bomb." He also suggested, "Evidently, most of the council wants it killed. Let's kill it."

A challenge to the other mobile home ordinance, which is being studied by the council committees, was posed by Thomas Nash, 2706 Denver St., who said he occupies a mobile home, which he is in the process of purchasing, but it sits on a rented lot.

He wanted to know whether the parts of the ordinance applying to owner-occupied mobile homes or parts applying to rented mobile homes would apply to him and whether he would have to circulate two sets of petitions before he could sell the home, one for the owner of the property and the other for himself.

Mayor Paul Schuler commented, "That is a point well taken. That is why it was sent back to committee at the last meeting."

City Attorney John Papa said Nash's situation was not considered when the ordinance was written. "Most people considered owners would be the owners of the lot. It is possible both of you would have to get permission," Papa said.

Alderman Charles Douglas of the First Ward said he believes the proposed mobile home ordinance needs more work before it is introduced to the council again. "There are some problems and things we have to discuss. I believe there is some question of constitutionality."

North Mimms rehearsing for January school tour

Rehearsals are underway as the Granite City High School North Mimms prepare to make their fifth season tour to the junior high schools in January.

The Mimms Troupe was started by Dr. Gonia Michaeloff, chairman of the speech department at North.

The purpose of the tour is to acquaint junior high students to the pantomime and original skit forms and to introduce them to one of the many speech activities offered at North.

A distinctive feature of the Mimms Troupe is their costumes which are modified teenage wear including colorful overalls, bright shirts, distinctive hats, sneakers and multi-colored long socks.

The leaders of the Mimms are known as Mimms. As part of the tour the Mimms present a special routine and original skit dressed as clowns. Each Mimms an originally designed clown outfit.

Each Mimms act is introduced by Mimms who carry placards announcing the name of the act to the audience.

A new song entitled "We're the North Mimms" written by Lisa Hendrix and Chris Hackney, two veteran Mimms, will become a regular feature of the performances.

Students in the Oral

Interpretation, Acting, Individual Events and Stagecraft classes at North will participate as Mimms.

New Mimms are selected by the speech department faculty members and advanced speech students currently serving as Mimms in trivets.

Students selected remain as Mimms until they graduate from North.

New Mimms this year are: Greg Warfield, Michele Hill, Laurie Hoosier and Lynda Loftus.

Former North teacher joins dairy council

Melissa Larsen, a 1977 home economics graduate of Berry College in Mount Berry, Ga., and former teacher at Granite City High School North, has been named to the staff of the St. Louis District Dairy Council, according to Frances G. Young, executive director.

She had been previously employed as assistant manager at the Lettuce Leaf Restaurant in Clayton, Mo., and at North High School, she taught classes in foods, consumer education and child development.

Her background also includes an internship at the Better Business Bureau in St. Louis and graduate studies at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Professional duties at Dairy Council for Miss Larsen involve the planning, development and evaluation of nutrition programs for educators, health leaders and consumers in the Illinois counties of St. Clair and Madison and in the Missouri counties of Crawford and Franklin.

She also will initiate and continue classroom nutrition activities in the Pattonville, Ritenour and University City School Districts, all located in St. Louis County.

Persons wishing to receive Dairy Council nutrition programs for their schools, hospitals, community or consumer organizations may send their inquiries to Melissa Larsen, St. Louis District Dairy Council, 8710 Manchester Road, St. Louis, Mo. 63144, or call 1-314-981-3100.

SUE offers courses at SAF center

Eight undergraduates and six graduate courses will be offered at the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Scott Air Force Base Resident Center during the winter quarter, according to Cathy Reusche, coordinator of the center.

Registration is scheduled in Room 22 of Building 2190 on the military base Dec. 4 and 5 from 8:30 a.m. until noon and Dec. 12 from 8:30 a.m. until 7 p.m.

Registration can also be accomplished on the Edwardsville campus during regular registration by appointment Dec. 1 from 8:30 a.m. until 7 p.m. and Dec. 2 from 8:30 a.m. until 3:45 p.m., and during open registration Dec. 2 from 4 until 7 p.m. and Jan. 5 from 8:30 a.m. until 7 p.m.

Military personnel and their dependents, civil service workers at the military base, and area civilians are eligible to enroll in classes at the SUE Scott Resident Center.

All graduate courses offered at the Scott AFB Center are part of the School of Business Master of Business Administration (MBA) program and are conducted on a weekend format. Classes meet Fridays from 6 until 10 p.m., Saturdays from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m., and Sundays from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Students must obtain syllabus and textbooks at the Scott Resident Center at least three weeks prior to the first class meeting.

The MBA courses being offered and the class dates are:

The Process of Management (MGMT 505-4), weekends of Jan. 16 and Feb. 6; Survey of Marketing (MKTG 506-4), weekends of Feb. 27 and March 20; Theory of the Firm and Consumer Behavior (ECON 327-4), weekends of Jan. 9 and Feb. 1; and Management of Organizational Behavior (MGMT 534-4), weekends of Feb. 20 and March 13.

Two undergraduate courses being offered in business and the class dates and hours are:

Corporation Finance (FIN

320-4), Thursdays, 6-10 p.m.; and Organizational Behavior (MGMT 341-4), Tuesdays, 6-10 p.m.

The SUE School of Education will offer three graduate courses in counselor education. Weekend format classes meet all day Saturday and Sunday for three different weekends. Students must obtain the syllabus and textbooks at the Center at least two weeks before the first class meeting. The courses and meeting dates are:

Statistical Methods (CED 521-4), weekends of Jan. 10 and 24 and Feb. 7; Counseling Theory and Approaches (CED 530-4), weekends of Feb. 14 and 28 and March 14; and Introduction to Adult and Continuing Education (ADED 490-4), weekends of Jan. 17 and 31 and Feb. 14.

The School of Education will offer one undergraduate course at the Center. Classes for Creative Writing (ED EL 490B-4) will meet Thursdays from 5 until 9:30 p.m.

The School of Social Sciences will offer two undergraduate courses — American History: 1945 to The Present (HIS 439C-4), Tuesdays and Thursdays, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.; and American Political Institutions: The American Chief Executive (GOVT 340A-4), Wednesdays, 5:30-9:30 p.m.

The School of Humanities will offer one course at the Center, History of Western Philosophy (PHIL 385-4). Classes will meet on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 5:30 until 9:20 p.m.

The Open University will offer a course on the city and the World (OUSS 321-8) on Mondays from 6:30 until 8:30 p.m.

Additional information on any of the courses being taught at the Scott AFB Resident Center may be obtained by telephoning 1-618-256-4169 or 1-618-746-4666.

Bill would up penalty for child molestation

Governor James R. Thompson has announced he will draft legislation for the 1981 General Assembly that will make the exploitation of children for sex-related purposes a Class X offense.

"The most repulsive people in our society are those who destroy children for a profit," Thompson said. "Any person who holds a child captive by force or drugs to coerce the youngster into prostitution or pornography should be behind bars."

"Recent disclosures, principally those of the WMAQ TV Unit Five series on child-exploiters and the Chicago Tribune's on child pornography, indicate that our existing laws are not strong enough."

The governor said his proposed legislation will — Create a Class X offense of "Exploitation of a Child" subject to a 6 to 30 years term of imprisonment, without probation or parole, if the offender detains a child under 18 by force, by threat of force, or by administering drugs to the child and if the offender compels the child to become a prostitute, or arranges a situation in which the child may practice prostitution, or receives money earned by the child through prostitution or causes the child to engage in pornography.

—Raise the penalties for the crimes of soliciting children for prostitution or taking money from the child knowing it was earned from prostitution from a Class 4 felony (4 to 3 years) to a Class 1 felony (4 to 15 years).

—Raise the age of children from 16 to 18 for the solicitation and taking of money offenses and for the added offense of arranging for a child to appear in pornography.

Sponsors of the measures will be Representatives Peter P. Peters and Roman J. Kosinski, both of Chicago, and Senators Jack E. Bowers, Downers Grove, and Robert J. Egan, Chicago.

"These new proposals will mean that the disgusting animals who parade as human beings while exploiting children will pay a heavy price in jail time," Thompson said.

In addition, he said the Department of Law Enforcement placed in operation last August a child pornography and sexual abuse unit in its Division of Criminal Investigations, a unit that has been successful in securing arrests and convictions.

Further, under the governor's Youth Initiative, combining the services of the Department of Children and Family Services, the Department of Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities and other agencies, programs have been established to treat the victims of child exploitation.

Thanksgiving services set here tonight

The second area Community Thanksgiving service, sponsored by the Quad City Ministerial Association, will take place at 7:30 p.m. today at the First United Methodist Church, Fifth and Ewing streets, Madison.

Sister Geraldine from St. Elizabeth Medical Center will deliver the sermon and musical selections will be performed by the choir from Third Baptist Church and Madison Community Choir.

Area residents are invited to attend the services, according to a spokesman for the sponsoring organization.

Holiday events for Legion Auxiliary

Plans for various events during the approaching holiday season were reviewed at last week's meeting of the Tri-City American Legion Auxiliary Unit 113.

The group met at the Legion Home, 1825 State St. Doris Hitchcock, president, was in charge and Tami Herzing was accepted as a new member.

Among the activities discussed were the auxiliary's Christmas party, scheduled at 8 p.m., Dec. 10, with members asked to bring a $3 gift to exchange.

The families of members are invited to attend a children's party at the Legion Home, arranged for Dec. 21, at 2 p.m.

The Past President's Parley holiday dinner will take place Dec. 3. A covered dish dinner is planned and gifts will be exchanged.

Donations were authorized to the Salvation Army Tree of Lights campaign, the United Way drive and the Venice Crippled Children's Organization.

Cash gifts also were voted to the American Legion's National Security Emergency and the Auxiliary Loan funds.

It was decided to fill holiday food baskets for families in need, with the names of the recipients to be provided by the Veterans' Administration.

Mrs. Hitchcock and Mrs. Barbara Weathers, Americanism chairman, have presented an American flag to Girl Scout Troop 709 at Marshall School. It was announced.

Plans were finalized to present hams at the Dec. 18 games session. Refreshments were served to 30 members by Donna Tanner, who used a Thanksgiving theme in the table appointments. Games were played, for the remainder of the evening and prizes were awarded.

New cubmaster for Pack 13

Allen Taylor was introduced as the new cubmaster of Cub Pack 13, sponsored by St. Elizabeth Church, at a meeting last week.

Taylor succeeds John Kromroy, who led the Pledge of Allegiance and welcomed the parents and cubs.

Also introduced were two new den leaders, Mrs. Jackie Hackethal and Joe Thomas; Mrs. Pam Bjorkman, pack secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Gloria Heintz and Mrs. Candy Thompson, current den leaders.

Guests included Fred Mercer, Uniway District commissioner, who spoke on the importance of the Cub Scout program, Ray Gaudette, Neighborhood commissioner, and Ted Games were played by the boys, directed by Kromroy and Marvin Wiedemer, Troop 13 scoutmaster.

Taylor conducted an awards ceremony. Those receiving pins were:

Ben Heitz, two-year pin and gold arrow; Mike Kromroy, David Plautz and Stephen Jachino, two-year pins; Jerry Thompson, one-year pin and gold and silver arrows; Brian Bjorkman, one-year pin and Wolf badge; Eric Achenbach, Stephen Friedel, Dan Niles, Carl Chomko, Tom Casey, Stephen Uram, Mike Patterson and Dennis Derossiet, all received one-year pins.

A Christmas party is planned in conjunction with the Dec. 18 pack meeting in the St. Elizabeth School cafeteria, Taylor announced.

Bills, Mustangs square off Sunday

ST. LOUIS — St. Louis University and Southern Methodist University will clash in the championship game of the NCAA Soccer Tournament. Mid-West Regional this Sunday (Nov. 30) at 1:30 p.m. at Lindbergh College in St. Charles, Mo.

The Billikens, 12-4-2, are the number-one seed in the region and have not played a game since October 30 when they defeated SIU-Edwardsville 5-1 to end the regular season.

Southern Methodist, 14-1-2, defeated SIU-Edwardsville 2-0 last Sunday in the first round of the NCAA Tournament. The Mustangs only lost this season was a 2-0 setback to the Billikens in a game played in Dallas, Texas.

Southern Methodist relies on a stingy defense and the play of all-American goalie Randy Phillips. SMU has allowed only six goals all season and Phillips has set an SMU record for goals against with a .43 average. Phillips has ten shutouts to his credit this season.

The Mustangs are no slouches on offense having scored 79 goals in 17 games. Leading scorer for SMU is Kamal Khalilian who has 27 goals, which also represents an SMU record.

Although a 30 day lay-off might hurt some teams, the Bills welcomed the rest because it gave some of their players time to heal from nagging injuries. Leading scorer Steve Sullivan has completely recovered from his separated shoulder suffered in the SIU game, Mid-Fielder Mark Frederickson's sprained ankle has recovered and Back Scott MacDonald's back, which kept him out of three games, has recovered enough to let him see action in the tournament.

Warriors, Devils in turkey tourneys

GRANITE CITY — Three of the four Quad Cities area prep basketball teams will swing into action this weekend.

Two of them, Granite City South and Venice, will begin their seasons. In Thanksgiving tournaments, Granite City North will start its season Friday night in Wood River for a regular season game with the Oilers. The non-conference tilt will begin with junior varsity action at 6:30 and the varsity contest at around 8 o'clock.

South will travel to Mount Vernon to participate in the Second Annual Turkey Classic at Mount Vernon High's Vernon Gym. Venice, meanwhile, will get its 1980-81 campaign started in the first-ever East St. Louis Thanksgiving Tournament.

And both South and Venice will be in pretty heady company in those round-robin meets.

Venice will begin play Thursday night at 6 against Chicago Dunbar in the first round of the tournament. It will face East St. Louis Senior Friday night and Lovejoy-Brooklyn Saturday night. The team with the best record after three games will be declared the winner. The East St. Louis Tournament replaces the Sparta Mid-Winter Classic on the Red Devils' schedule. Venice won the Sparta tournament the last two seasons, but was not invited to return this year. As it looks, the Devils picked up much better competition in the exchange.

South will begin its season Friday at 8 p.m. against Mount Vernon, one of the best teams in Southern Illinois this season. Saturday, the Warriors will play two games. At 2 p.m., they will play powerful East St. Louis Lincoln, the team that ended their season last year in an overtime game in the Collinsville 2A Regional and eventually advanced to the Carbondale Super-Sectional.

South will play Kankakee Westview at 7 p.m. In other Mount Vernon games, Kankakee Westview will play East St. Louis Lincoln at 6:30 p.m. Friday, Mount Vernon will face Kankakee at 12:30 p.m. Saturday and Lincoln will battle Mount Vernon at 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

Madison, which began its season last Friday with a win over Mounds-Meridian, will be in action next Friday at Venice.

Terriers advance

HIGHLAND — The Carbondale High School girls volleyball team will get another chance. The Lady Terriers defeated Salem in two straight games here last night by scores of 15-11 and 15-13 in the championship game of the Highland IHSA Class 2A Sectional Tournament.

Carbondale, with a won-loss record of 25-7, will advance to the Belleville West Super-Sectional Monday night to face Belleville Althoff, with a 27-5 record. Althoff beat Granite City South in three games last night in the Collinsville Sectional title game.

Last season Carbondale advanced to the Granite City South Super Sectional but was ousted by Collinsville.

CREWS LIQUOR

game for Althoff to realize what had to be done. For South, game one couldn't have been any easier. Boyd and Jeffries went to work quickly and moved the Warriors ahead to stay at 3-1. But, it was Karen Spencer that blew the game wide open.

With the score at 4-1, Spencer delivered three outstanding serves Althoff couldn't return. The Crusaders managed only one other rally before Jeffries put a climactic finish on the game with six straight service points. The Warriors were in the driver's seat.

"They (South) knew they had to go back in there and play ball," said Warrior head coach Wilma Schulze. "Althoff is a good enough team to come back. The Crusaders came back with authority."

See-sawing the first few points, Althoff, with Linda Parker serving, planted seven unanswered points. For all practical purposes, the game was over. Even though South tried to produce a rally, Althoff was in command. More importantly, the momentum had shifted.

"We had some holes in that first game," said Althoff head coach Al Velle. "We were laying back, because Boyd is a such good hitter. We expected her to hit hard, but she dropped a lot of shots." The Crusaders located the trouble and even found a way to stop Boyd and Jeffries.

The emotions were running high as the match was knotted up at one game a piece. In the third game, it was South that failed to prevent a series of opening points. Althoff rolled up five tallies before the Warriors got on the board. By that time it was too late. But you couldn't tell South that.

Down as much as 7-1, the Warriors would not give up. Again, with Spencer on the delivery end, South managed to tighten the game. Jeffries brought the contest as close as it was going to get when she served the Warriors to the 9-7 deficit. But just when the momentum was gradually changing, the officials shot South down.

On a number of occasions, the Warrior setters were called with two-touching the ball. In fact, everytime South made a run at the tie, the whistle blew and Althoff took over the serve. "We weren't getting the sets and passes and it effected our hitting," said Schulze. "It's a matter of putting it all together. When we did, the official broke the momentum."

Not only the officials, but the Crusader defense broke the Warrior's back. Althoff's Mary Vogel found the knack in stopping the power spiking of South. She kept the Warriors out of the game when she foiled three spike attempts with blocks late in the game. Then it was all a matter of sophomore Kathy Crotty's strength to put South away. Crotty pounded a total of six spikes, three early in the game to put Althoff ahead and three late in the game to give the Crusaders the win.

"It was the best job of blocking I've seen in a long time," said Velle. "I like to say we are an offensive team, but we try and balance ourselves. We usually go down the middle with our shots and we try to go to Crotty when we can. She certainly handled the pressure for a sophomore. We were emotional ready for the second and third games, though. I think that helped us."

The change of momentum brought a bitter end to an otherwise very successful year for the Warriors. South concludes the season at 16-10.

The victory for Althoff means that the Crusaders will face Carbondale, winner of the Highland Sectional, next Monday night at the Belleville West Super Sectional and the right to advance to the State Class 2A Finals next weekend at Hancock Gym on the campus of Illinois State University in Normal.

Wrestling time again

It'll be a tough act to follow

By TOM SCHOCKER

GRANITE CITY — The only thing more you could ask from the Granite South wrestling team is an undefeated record and maybe a couple of state champions. Last year, the Warriors compiled an impressive 23-1 season record. A repeat performance might be asking a little too much.

Knocking off everyone, except Belleville West, South did so with a strong group of grapplers. But the 1980-81 season looks a little troublesome. The Warriors lost half their team to graduation. "We have lost six starters," said South head coach Bill Schmitt. "This may be a draw back. I really can't tell how we look."

Schmitt's problems don't end there. The loss of so many individuals have opened up a number of positions. Spots that can be filled, but not strengthened. "We have a cluster of two or three in a number of weight classes," said Schmitt. "Some weights have only one. There is not much depth."

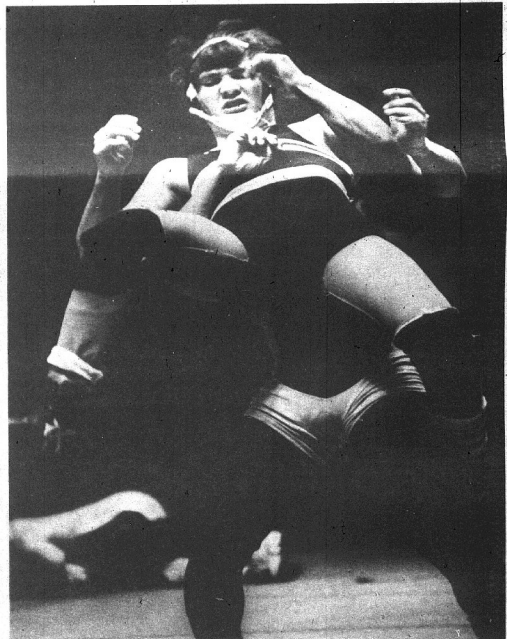

Schmitt was prepared for the losses. He wasn't prepared for the unexpected. "I'm not even sure on one wrestler," said Schmitt. "School work may not permit him to come out for the team. It's tough to lose someone you expected to have back."

Problems seem to be running thick throughout the Warrior team. They can feel good on the players returning to action this season, though. "There used to be quite a spell when we had the strength in the lighter six weight classes," said Schmitt, "but then it changed to the heavier classes. Now, it's back to the light weights." And those wrestlers can certainly hold their own.

In addition to Greg Garland, 144-1 last year, the Warriors have a fine all-star back in the line-up. Don Perkins finished third in the state tournament last year with an astounding 41-1 record. His third place was a second time thing for him as it was a duplication of his 1979 performance. He also placed fifth in the national summer tournament. "He will be our mainstay on the team," said Schmitt. "He should be our best wrestler."

Relying on the lighter kids to hold up their own end according to Schmitt will be a big task, considering the already loss of talent and the schedule ahead. One that has little changes from last year. "We won every tournament last year and the schedule has changed a little bit," said Schmitt, "but to equal last seasons record will be hard to do. We will be competitive. The other teams will be a lot tougher." Schmitt said that the Warriors will need a little more balance if they are to deal with the likes of Belleville West and East, along with Granite North. "The first match we should win, but it will give a good look at what we need to do."

Reproducing a one loss year will have its problems for South. Schmitt still remains confident about the future. "We'll have a winning season," said Schmitt. "We'll be a winner. Anything over 500 is a winner, right."

Venice's young team tackles tough slate

By TOM SCHOCKER
of the Press-Record

VENICE — When a basketball team is comprised of mostly younger players, there tends to be a little bit of a "there's always next year" type of attitude among the squad and coaches. At Venice, you would have to look real hard to find that feeling.

The Venice Red Devils are a young basketball team. They plan to play only two seniors and neither one has game experience. "I'm an external optimist," said Perkins. "I think most coaches are. But the kids I have out here have the enthusiasm to make them a good team."

Venice's team this season had a tough act to follow last season's Red Devils made it all the way to the regional final before finally losing it to Madison in the first of two most exciting prep basketball games ever played. Madison had to come from behind. The Trojans eventually finished fourth in the State IA Finals. Perkins is relying on the sophomore class to pull the team through. "On paper, this bunch of kids has good natural ability," said Perkins. "They will get better when they gain the experience."

With the type of schedule Venice has, the Red Devils will get the experience or else they'll fold. "This is the hardest schedule we have had since I've been here," said Perkins. "We play a total of nine or ten AA schools."

Venice opens with the East St. Louis Tournament, which includes the Flyers, Chicago Dunbar and Lovjoy. The next game is against Madison. "You can see by our first four games that our schedule is tough," said Perkins. "I don't see any weak spots." The only thing weak will be the Red Devil team. Still Perkins looks to the good points about Venice that will hopefully combat its lack of playing time. "We are not shy on depth," said Perkins. "We don't have that one outstanding player, like we have had in past years. I had hoped that person would show through along with some leadership qualities. We'll come along quickly or hope the experience will develop."

Although Venice is good in numbers, it still has the problem of young players trying to learn all the knowledge of the game plan. "We are changing some things and running a different system and I think it's for the better," said Perkins. "It's a good time for younger people. The hardest problem is me. I want to pound certain things in and if you're young, it's hard to get everything accomplished."

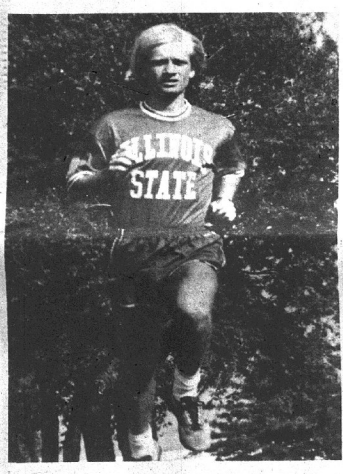

An early starting time on their season has also given the Red Devils and Perkins some fits. "This is the earliest we have ever started," said Perkins. "I would like to have more practice time, so I can get the kids better acquainted with the system. Sometimes, I think they just get tired of waiting. I know I do. Win or lose, you want to see what you got out there."

Even though Venice faces a number of big obstacles, there are a few factors that will help the situation. Perkins noted that the Red Devils are counting on their quickness and aggressiveness on defense to hold them together. "Hard work will do the job," said Perkins. "They certainly are willing to give that."

But the most important item that will pull Venice along through its long grueling slate of games is the enthusiasm. "Enthusiasm can carry you along way," said Perkins. "They just want to go out and whip up on people. They are not losers. I just hope they can stay up through the season."

Being named All-America

Baker narrowly misses

MIKE BAKER

NORMAL — It won't be the way Illinois State University's cross country team would have liked it, but the Redbirds did at least have one representative at the NCAA Nationals Monday in Wichita, Kan.

Junior Mike Baker, Granite City (North), was among the 240 runners that will take on the 10,000-meter course. He qualified for the meet in last Saturday's District Five meet at Ames, Iowa, by placing fourth (11:41) among runners not on a qualifying team with a 30:42.4 time.

Baker finished 54th overall Monday and just missed being named All-American. He was the 27th American to finish in college cross country, only the top 25 American citizens who finish receive All-American honors.

Baker is not the first Redbird to gain a berth in the Nationals, but his district run was the highest placing for an ISU runner. He'll need to be among the top 25 Americans to place at Nationals to gain All-America status.

Baker was pleased with his running, but thinks he can improve. "I think I could have done better," he explained about District. "I got a cramp in my side the last kilometer that got pretty bad and I held back and got passed up by four or five guys."

Baker's early strategy on the race will be to identify a familiar opponent. "I'll be running my own type of race," he noted. "I'll pick out some key guys that I've been running with all year. In the six races Baker has run this season, he has led the Redbirds in four of them. His best times have been: 18:43 (four-mile); 24:06 (five-mile); and 30:42.4 (10,000 meters). The Nationals will be the second time Baker has run the 10,000-meter distance.

Although it was their highest team finish ever, ISU's fourth place at the district missed qualifying by one spot. "We're happy to be advancing in individual, ISU coach John Coughlan said. "Mike Baker will do well."

Both Baker and Coughlan expect the ISU runner to benefit from previous experience. Baker will be running in his third national meet within a year. He ran in the steeplechase in the NCAA Outdoor Track Nationals, and in the mile in the Indoor Nationals, both last year.

South stumbles past Oilers

COLLINSVILLE — It wasn't the prettiest prep volleyball match ever played, but Granite City South still managed to stumble past the Wood River team 15-9, 15-5 here Monday night in the semifinals of the Collinsville Class AA Sectional Tournament. The victory meant that the Warriors would face powerful Belleville, Althoff for the championship Tuesday night (see related story).

Even though the Warriors won the match in two straight games, they could probably consider themselves lucky that they weren't playing a team of a higher caliber than Wood River.

Mistakes, both mental and physical, plagued the Warriors throughout both games. That is, until South's Nita Graham served in the second rotation in game two. She served seven straight points and the Warriors won going away.

As usual, South was led by the spiking of Chris Boyd and Susan Jeffries. Boyd in particular was outstanding — when she got a chance to spike. But those times were few and far between.

"We didn't play as well as we could have," said South coach Wilma Schulze. "I don't really know why, but the girls couldn't seem to put it together."

Putting it together is something that South, after starting its season later than most other teams in the area, has had to do on a gradual basis this year. At times, the Warriors have shown glimpses of pure power, taking Collinsville to three bitterly-fought games twice.

All the marbles came together for the team finally last week in the East St. Louis Lincoln Regional Tournament. The Warriors marched into Lincoln and actually intimidated both East St. Louis Senior and Lincoln right in their own back yard. That's something you don't see every day, no matter what the sport.

South jayvees finish 12-2-2

GRANITE CITY — Look out Southern Illinois prep soccer teams, five-time defending state champ Granite City South has a bright future. The South junior varsity team, coached by Mel Bunting had yet another banner season by finishing the 1980 campaign with a 12-2-2 record.

The record is respectable enough, but the statistics are even more amazing. The junior Warriors outscored their opponents this season by a combined total of 34-5, and that was with mainly freshmen and sophomores.

Leading the way for the Warriors was sophomore Phil Popmarkoff with 10 goals and five assists. "He could be a fine player if he puts it all together," said Bunting. "He's got the tools." After Popmarkoff, the scoring is more evenly divided. Next in line is Scott Vickers with three goals and five assists. Dave Madrusic scored five goals and had one assist. Jim Kelehan scored four goals and had two assists. Ed Cauley scored four goals and had one assist. Barry Grote scored two goals and had two assists.

Others scoring or having assists for the junior Warriors this season were Tim Sheridan with one goal and two assists, Matt Harizal with one goal and one assist, Richard Mendoza with one goal and two assists, Bunch with one goal and one assist, Fritz Brewer with one goal, Tim Paz with one goal, Nathan Crane with one goal, John Menendez with one goal and Crews with three assists.

The results for the past South jayvee season were: South 5, Lebanon 0; South 4, Alton 0; South 2, Edwardsville 1; South 2, South 1; Belleville West 1, South 0; South 2, GC North 0.

South 5, Belleville East 0; South 8, Edwardsville 0; South 1, Althoff 0; South 1, Quincy 1; South 2, Cahokia 0; South 0, GC North 0; South 4, Hazelwood East 0; South 8, Cahokia 0; South 4, Althoff 0; South 3, Collinsville 0.

Widow contends trial showing need for new blood sample law

By EDGURNEY

A law preventing blood samples from being introduced into evidence without the consent of a defendant appeared to weaken the case against an area man charged with reckless homicide.

Betty Cromer and Beverly Lehman are trying to get that law changed. They are circulating petitions asking the General Assembly to change the law to allow blood tests to be used as evidence in reckless homicide cases. Mrs. Lehman's husband and children were killed in a head-on collision last New Year's Eve. Arlin Davis was charged with reckless homicide and was on trial this week. A separate article on the trial appears on today's front page.

Mrs. Cromer said the petitions are backing the legislative efforts of State Sen. Sam Vadalabeng (D-Edwardsville).

She said she's also circulating a petition on her own calling for stiffer penalties for repeated convictions on drunk driving charges. Davis, also charged with driving while intoxicated in the Lehman accident, had previously been convicted for such an offense.

"It doesn't seem fair," Mrs. Cromer said. "Nothing's going to bring those kids back, but this may make it safer for someone else."

Mrs. Cromer said about 1,500 signatures have been collected since the petition drive started during the summer.

ARRESTED AT SEMC

Daniel M. Keller Jr., 27, of Des Moines, Iowa, was charged with disorderly conduct at 5:45 p.m. Tuesday, following an incident in the emergency room at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he allegedly demanded to go into an examining room with his wife and began using obscene language when informed that hospital rules would not permit him to do so.

Police rules now official

The Madison City Council passed an ordinance adopting the new police department rules and regulation at their meeting Tuesday evening.

The council previously reviewed the rules at the last council meeting and approved City Attorney Casper S. Nighohossian drawing up the ordinance.

An escrow agreement with Southwestern Steel regarding the railroad spur in the Maersk Industrial Park was tabled until the next council meeting.

A discussion was held on the pros and cons of the new trash pick up system currently being tried in the city.

Aldermen have been asked to contact residents in their wards for comments.

A letter regarding raising water rates was referred to the city attorney. City Comptroller Al Hudzik gave a copy of income and expenses for the city for the past six months.

Christmas programs at Central Christian

Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road, have completed plans for services to precede the Christmas season, according to the pastor, the Rev. Dennis Rutledge.

The minister extends an invitation to the public to attend Advent services beginning Nov. 30 and continuing through Dec. 21, when special candlelight worship hours will be observed.

Other than the Sunday morning services, a Christmas breakfast and children's program is scheduled for 9 a.m. on Dec. 21, to be followed at the 10:45 a.m. service with a Christmas Cantata featuring the church choir.

Communion will be served at 7:30 p.m. on Christmas Eve, the pastor added.

Coterie yule party Dec. 4

A Christmas party for members of the Ladies Coterie will be held on Dec. 4 at Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road, according to an announcement by the president, Mrs. John Gordon, at the November meeting of the group.

Mrs. Gordon added the luncheon will be followed by a special program and gift exchange.

Members met at the First United Presbyterian Church for luncheon served by Mrs. Jack Cormier.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES FENSTERMAN. They were united in marriage at St. Joseph Catholic Church in an afternoon ceremony. Formerly Miss Lisa M. Garcia, the bride is the daughter of Mrs. Linda Garcia, 1821 Maple St.

Madison Jr. Service holds 'Hobby Auction'

The Madison Junior Service Club conducted an annual November Hobby Auction at the Madison Recreation Center, featuring handmade items such as embroidered Christmas ornaments, wreaths, handbags, crocheted toys, afghans and ceramics which were auctioned to make it the most successful Hobby Auction in Junior Service history.

Mrs. Donna Kosteki served as auctioneer and hostesses were the president, Mrs. Fannie Fink, Mrs. Mary Anna Kaminski and Teresa Rhoads. Homemade desserts brought by the members were served during intermission and the evening was enjoyed by the 20 members, nine sustaining members and 96 guests. A meeting was held after the auction during which the roll call was taken, minutes from the previous meeting were read, treasurers reports were given along with a point report.

BENNETT PROMOTED
Marine Sgt. Tony D. Bennett, son of Rosewell Bennett Jr. of 2405 E. Lake Drive, Granite City, has been promoted to his present rank while serving with Corrections Battalion, located at Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, Calif. A 1974 graduate of Granite High School, he joined the Marine Corps in August 1974.

Lisa Garcia weds James Fensterman

Miss Lisa Garcia, daughter of Mrs. Linda Garcia, 1821 Maple St., and James Fensterman, son of Mrs. Ellen Fensterman, 3208 Fernwood St., Alton, and the late Don Fensterman, exchanged wedding vows on Oct. 18 at St. Joseph Catholic Church.

Father Gary Nichols officiated at the double ring ceremony at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, before an altar decorated with bouquets of red roses, white carnations and pink daisies.

Candelabra, wrapped with baby's breath, and holding burning tapers illuminated the white carpeted aisle.

Organist Leah Rogers accompanied vocalists Norma Mendoza and Frank Joachimsthaler as they sang "Love Me With All Your Heart" in English and Spanish, and "With You I'm Born Again." Other selections included, "I Know I'll Never Love This Way Again," "An I Love You So," "There is Love," "Candle On The Water," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her uncle, Herbert Grim, the bride wore a floor length white gown designed with an empire bodice, square neckline and long fitted sleeves accented with Belgium lace.

The semi full skirt fell softly into a cathedral length train. Her veil was attached at the back of an English style derby created of beaded lace and she carried white lace fan adorned with silk red and white roses tied with satin streamers.

The bride's attendant was Kathleen Mohr. She chose a formal burgundy gown dress fashioned with a floral lace inset on the bodice, complemented with a chiffon high neck cape.

Bridesmaids, Sarita and Laura Garcia, sisters of the bride, Monica Martin, the bride's cousin, Mary Martinez and Jeannie Laythe, were gownned in rose giana attendants identical to the honor attendant. Each girl wore a English derby hat and carried nosegay bouquets of silk red roses and pink daisies intermingled with baby's breath.

The junior bridesmaid, Emily Stutch and flower girl, Mollie Barnes, were attired in full length white lace dresses enhanced with rosette sashes. The junior attendant carried a bouquet similar to the adult attendants and the flower girl held a white wicker basket of silk flowers.

Joey Martinez served as the ringbearer. Ray Laythe attended the groom as best man. Gregory Garcia, a brother of the bride, Wesley Grim, a cousin of the bride, John Borcher, Kent Schiebel, Mike Donaldson, Mike and Ronald Grim and Mike Sarlin, cousins of the bride, Tim Paetz and Rick Gurley, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Debbie Thiek and Laura Antoff presided over the guest book, at a reception held at the Croatian Home in Madison. Immediately following the service.

The rehearsal dinner was served at the Mexican Honorary Commission Hall. A 1972 graduate of South High School, the bride is now employed by the U.S. Employment Opportunity Commission in its Federal Affirmative Action Unit, St. Louis.

The groom was graduated in 1969 from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville with a B.A. degree in sociology and is currently working in the Internal Revenue Service, St. Louis office.

The couple is residing in Granite City.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Lucy Arrowsmith, Ohio, Victor Farias and family from Indiana, and Michael Harris, Washington, D.C.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN HARRISON. Their wedding was solemnized at the Third Baptist Church. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tessmer, 2425 Angela Drive, the bride is the former Diane Lynne Warchol.

Diane Warchol becomes Mrs. John R. Harrison

Diane Lynne Warchol and John Randall Harrison were united in marriage on Nov. 1 in an evening candlelight ceremony at the Third Baptist Church.

Arrangements of pink and white daisies and burning tapers in branch candelabra decorated the sanctuary for the double ring service performed by the Rev. Roy Johnson at 6:30 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tessmer, 2425 Angela Drive. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. David Hodges, 108 Westwood, Collinsville, and the late John H. Harrison.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a full length ivory chiffon gown fashioned with a Princess Anne neckline and beaded Chantilly lace bodice.

The pleated skirt was accented with scallop Chantilly lace which was repeated on the chapel train. She wore an ivory hat adorned with a Princess Anne neckline and beaded Chantilly lace bodice.

Matron of honor Mrs. Roberta Dallas was attired in a Daphne rose formal length A-line dress designed with a blouson bodice, high ivory lace collar and yoke and three quarter length sleeves.

She wore pink rosebuds in her hair and carried a nosegay of silk ivory and rose color roses with baby's breath.

Served as candlelighters and junior bridesmaids were Angela and Cathy Naglich, cousins of the bride. They appeared in long white gowns embellished with rose and maroon floral print and each held ivory long stem roses.

Dawn Harrison, daughter of the groom, was the flower girl.

She was dressed in an ivory and rose frock created with a maroon vest bodice, gathered skirt and puff sleeves and she carried a basket of pink daisies.

The groom chose his brother Ron Harrison, as best man.

Escorting the guests to their seats were Richard Womack, a cousin of the bride, Christopher Warchol, son of the bride, was the ringbearer.

David Harrison, cousin of the groom, sang, "If, 'Longer," "Sunrise, Sunset," "We've Only Just Begun," and "Colour My World."

Tami Harrison, the groom's sister, presided over the guest book at a reception given at the Moose Lodge.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Tessmer selected a formal length mauve gown fashioned with an empire waist, pleated skirt and capelet sleeves.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Hodges wore a long chiffon beige gown designed with a floral brown overlay. Both wore corsages of ivory roses tied with streamers in match their attire.

A 1972 graduate of St. Teresa Academy, East St. Louis, the bride also attended Belleville Area College. She is employed as the delicatessen manager at Schnuck's Market, Wood River.

Employed in the payroll department at Granite City Steel, the groom was graduated in 1971 from Collinsville High School and also attended BAC. They are residing in Granite City.

MRS. LAWRENCE PETRI the former Katherine M. Walker, daughter of Mrs. Alberta C. Haynes, 2776 Madison Ave. She was married at St. Joseph Catholic Church.

Petri-Walker nuptials at St. Joseph Church

Arrangements for all flowers on the altar flanked by branch candelabra holding burning tapers, and festooned with clusters of white daisies provided the setting at St. Joseph Roman Catholic Church for the wedding on Oct. 31 of Miss Katherine M. Walker and Lawrence A. Petri II.

Father Donald C. Markovitch performed the double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Alberta C. Haynes, 2776 Madison Ave. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Petri, 1725 Moro Ave.

Organist Jack Jenkins accompanied Mrs. Lois Bilbey as she sang "I'll Be Home for Christmas," "My Sweet Lady," "Yes," "More," and "The Wedding Prayer." Escorted to the altar by the groom's father, the former Miss Walker chose a floor length gown of white organza over taffeta. Reembroidered lace encrusted with seed pearls accented the fitted bodice featuring a Queen Anne neckline and full camelot sleeves.

From the empire waistline the full skirt, enhanced with a front panel of pleated organza, fell softly into a cathedral train of lace. She wore a mantilla veil of bridal illusion bordered with matching lace and secured to a camelot style headpiece. Her bridal bouquet was an arrangement of white and yellow roses, white daisies and stephanotis.

Matron of honor Mrs. Gloria Wood, a sister of the groom, and bridesmaids, Mrs. Pam Vesce, Mrs. Mary Rose and Miss Carrie Walker, sisters of the bride.

During the session a memorial service was given by Ida Cariss for Thelma Jensen and Roland Mueller. Those reported to be ill were Adele Thomas, Lucille Lipe, Clara Harbig and Wendell Gritz.

Mrs. Bilbey announced the December meeting will be a Christmas party and those attending are to bring a $2 gift for exchange.

After the meeting a social hour was held and refreshments served.

Those holding supreme appointments included Alice Woods, Cleveland Cox and Lloyd Lewis. Other guests accorded honors and introduced were Pat Stanifer, worthy high priestess, Oco Woods, watchman of shepherds of Caspar Shrine, Wood River, and past shrine officers, Bill James, Aline Triplett, Ralph Triplett, Ida Cariss, Mary Ann Delhart, Karmyn Edmonds, Virginia and David John, Hulda Griffith, Gussie and Delbert McKissick, Charles Youngs, Charles McCollum, Mary Petrosian, Ann Mueller and Mary Ellen Lewis.

DNRS plants 56 trees in downtown GC area

The annual tree planting project, sponsored by the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society, involved members of the organization participating in a weekend event to plant 56 trees along a five block area in the 2100 block of Cleveland Boulevard, Delmar and Edison avenues and 22nd Street between Madison Avenue and State Street, and to Grand and Madison avenues.

Trees, to help beautify the area, were planted between the sidewalk and curb in conjunction with permission by utility companies and homeowners and a master plan drawn by Gerald Adams, horticulturist.

Coffee and soup was served to the volunteer workers at the Clyde Favier home, 2128 Edison Ave., during the weekend event. The DNRS has an extended plan to continue planting for 10 years to include the 66 block area covered by the organization.

Future plantings will be trees which are 12 to 14 inches in diameter at the trunk and vary in height depending on the particular type, Mrs. Favier said.

Anyone interested in more information relating to the planting project or the sponsoring club are advised to call Mrs. Favier at 451-1331, Gene Gunderson at 877-1277 or Mrs. Rogers Mefford at 451-57845.

The following week the society met for a monthly session to plan for future events. Twenty-one members attended and agreed on tentative arrangements for the annual spring house tour under the direction of Mrs. Mefford.

A work session to decorate a permanent meeting place in the basement of 2100 Delmar Ave. was set. Other plans included a progressive dinner to celebrate the Christmas season and include a white elephant auction with proceeds to be donated to the Salvation Army Tree of Lights.

After the business segment, Janet Mills of Sunnyside Up Gift Gallery, gave a demonstration on making centerpiece and other holiday decorations.

Paula Tolliver and Danny Revelle wed

The wedding of Paula Tolliver and Danny Revelle was solemnized on Oct. 19 at a ceremony at Scott Air Force Base Chapel, Belleville.

Officiating at the double ring service at 7 p.m. was Chaplain David Copeland before an altar decorated with arrangements of red and white carnations interspersed with baby's breath.

Wedding music included, "Chopin Nocturne," "One Hand, One Heart," "Wedding Song" and "More."

The bride is the daughter of Bob Black, 2211 Charles St., and Mrs. Lorraine Wilkinson, 4532 Walters Ave. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Revelle, 4921 Willow Lane.

For her wedding, the bride wore an ivory gown with lace trim accenting the neckline and cuffs of the long sleeves.

The back of the skirt was created with tiers of ruffles which encircled the hemline.

She wore a shoulder length lace bordered veil and held a Bible topped with a cluster of silk red roses and trailing streamers.

Miss Barbara Wilkinson, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Miss Cathy Black, another sister, and Gloria Harrison, the groom's sister.

They selected full length dresses in burgundy organza designed with pleated skirts and complemented with matching lace capes.

Each attendant wore a headpiece created with red roses and ivory baby's breath and they held pink lace fans with a red silk rose and baby's breath attached.

Flower girls were Rachel Tolliver and Jessica Revelle, daughters of the bride and groom, respectively.

They were dressed in long pink frocks with ruffled necklines and silk ribbon sashes at the waistlines.

Each wore a halo of baby's breath in their hair and carried white lace baskets with red rose petals.

Kelly Revelle, a brother of the groom, was best man. Bill Harrison, a brother-in-law of the groom, and Tim Wilkinson, the bride's brother, were groomsmen.

Seating the guests were Edward Wilkinson, a brother of the bride, and Kevin Kingsley.

Christine Bivens, another sister of the bride, attended the guest book.

A reception was held immediately following the service at the Airman's Club at Scott AFB and the rehearsal dinner was hosted at Ravanelli's Restaurant, by the groom's parents.

The bride graduated in 1973 from Granite City High School and the groom is a 1976 graduate of North High School. He is currently stationed in Germany with the Air Force in the field of electronics and radio relay.

The newlywed couple will leave for Germany in December to make their home.

Circuit Breaker aids elderly

Elderly and disabled persons with low incomes may be eligible for financial assistance with their rent or property tax bills under the state's "Circuit Breaker" program. Applications for benefits, based on 1979 tax bills, must be mailed by Dec. 31, 1980.

Q: Who is eligible for "Circuit Breaker" benefits?
A: If you were 65 years of age or older by Jan. 1, 1980, a resident of Illinois and your household income was less than $10,000 or if you were 16 years of age or older on that date and are totally disabled according to medical criteria of the Social Security Administration, you may be eligible.

Q: What kind of benefits are provided?
A: Annual cash grants of up to $650 for relief of property taxes (including privilege taxes if the residence was a mobile home) and on rented residences subject to property taxes are available. Additional grants of between $50 and $100 can also be obtained under the program. Some benefits also may be available to nursing home residents.

Q: I read in the newspaper that the amount of the grants have recently been increased. Is this true?

A: Due to recent legislation, increases in the grant amount and income limit have been okayed, but the increases won't go into effect until Jan. 1, 1981. The increases apply to applications filed for the 1980 tax year.

Q: Where can I obtain a "Circuit Breaker" application?
A: Application forms are available from any office of the Department of Revenue, the Department on Aging and the Gov. Dave O'Neil's Senior Action Centers. The Senior Action Centers are located at 160 N. LaSalle, Chicago 60601 and at 3 West

YOU AND YOUR FAMILY
A VERY SAFE
AND HAPPY
HOLIDAY SEASON.

Like a lot of fast food companies, McDonald's depends on families for the bulk of their business. Unlike a lot of fast food companies, McDonald's takes time to thank them for their patronage.

We would like to thank you for your business this past year. We sincerely hope that you will be able to enjoy the smell of pine needles, the taste of turkey, the frustration of holiday shopping and the joy of giving this holiday season.

Estate planning meeting set

By RON CORNWELL
Extension Adviser

Are you concerned about keeping the farm in the family yet preserving it as an operating unit. You will find many answers at an estate planning seminar scheduled for Friday, Dec. 5, at the Gardens Restaurant in Litchfield. The seminar begins at 10 a.m. and ends at 3:30 p.m.

Persons interested in attending can pre-register by sending their name and address to the Extension office with a check for $8 to cover registration and meal fee.

Al Rock, U of I Agriculture Law specialist, will be teaching the seminar at Litchfield. He will discuss anticipated changes in estate and gift tax laws. Other topics include simplifying the process of estate administration and probate, generation skipping, delayed estate tax payment and treating children fairly in settling the estate. The program will cover a number of other topics in the estate planning area.

AFLATOXIN IN CORN
The situation with aflatoxin contaminated corn has improved the past week according to Dave McQueen, University of Illinois Extension Veterinarian.

The Centralia state diagnostic laboratory tested only 12 corn samples the week of November 3-7. None of these samples tested over 30 parts per billion.

The previous week the Centralia lab tested 51 corn samples with 38 being positive for aflatoxin. Most samples were under 20 PPB with 12 ranging from 20 to 60 PPB.

This information tells us the problem is minor at best. The FDA now allows corn to be shipped interstate for feed up to 100 PPB.

ATTIC INSULATION
A recent national insulation survey reveals one home of every five has no insulation in the attic. More than 33 million homes have five inches or less attic insulation.

It is hard to imagine that one out of five homes in Madison County have no insulation in the attic. However, if Madison County is typical of the average county, the above statement would be true.

Is your home one of those without attic insulation? Can you afford the luxury of no attic insulation? I don't think that you can.

With winter approaching, now is the time to find out the facts on insulation and energy saving.

We have available at the Madison County Extension office a free packet of fact sheets on energy. The sheets cover insulation of the attic, walls, basement and crawl spaces, caulking, weatherstripping windows and doors, thermostats and fireplaces.

CHRISTMAS TREE DIRECTORY

A Christmas tree directory listing people in the area with cut your own Christmas tree operations is available from the Madison County Extension office.

The freshness and fragrance of a real Christmas tree is a tradition many people associate with the Holiday Season. This list is to aid you in locating a fresh Christmas tree.

SHEEP MEETING
The third annual Sheepman's Symposium is planned for Jan. 9 and 10 at the Holiday Inn East in Springfield.

The program will cover all phases of sheep production. This includes genetics, reproduction, health problems, buildings and sheep facilities and sheep nutrition.

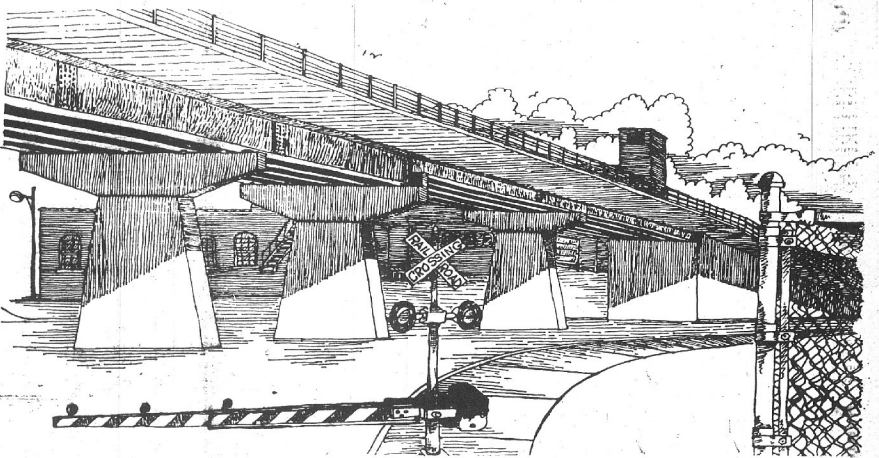

Speakers include: Dr. R. D. Scoggins of U of I Veterinary department, Dr. Gary Ricketts, U of I Sheep specialist, Dr. Jack Cline, Ohio State University, Mrs. Vicki Hunte, Purdue University plus many other speakers.

For information on pre-registration, contact the Madison County Extension Office.

Vandalize car

A vandal caused extensive damage to the auto of Donna Housend, 3811 Kirkpatrick Homes, parked on the Kozak's Grocery parking lot across from the housing complex between 7:30 p.m. Friday and 6 p.m. Saturday.

Four windows, including the windshield and rear window, were smashed and all four tires were flattened. Toilet tissue also was stuffed in the gasoline tank opening set on fire in an unsuccessful attempt to burn the car, according to official reports.

ARTIST'S SKETCH of the completed 19th Street overpass. The structure is to be formally dedicated on Friday, Dec. 5. A brief ceremony will be held in Triangle Park at Ohio Avenue and Rock Road. The $5.9 million overpass is now ahead of schedule. The dedication will begin at 11 a.m. with a reception immediately following at the Moose Lodge, 19th and Adams streets. Edward Schulze, city highway and traffic engineer, made this sketch of the overpass which is looking west.

Santa's workshop to feature pictures

Santa's Workshop, a fund-raiser sponsored by St. Joseph's Youth Ministries, will be held at St. Joseph's Convent, 2116 Edison Ave., Monday, Dec. 1 through Sunday Dec. 23.

Santa's Workshop features: visit with Santa (available with picture), personal treat for each visiting child, Christmas-decorated rooms, free movie and gift shop.

Admission will be $1 per person (adult free, when accompanied with child).

Opening hours will be Monday through Friday 4:30 p.m.-8 p.m.; Saturday 1 p.m.-8 p.m.; Sunday 12:5 p.m.-5 p.m.

Proceeds from Santa's Workshop will benefit Scouts of Troop 7 and Pack 7 of St. Joseph's Catholic Church.

Nolan reappointed to Regional Forum

David J. Nolan, administrative assistant to Mayor Paul Schuler, has been appointed to an additional two-year term on the Regional Forum of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council.

The appointment was made by Nelson Hagnauer, Madison County Board chairman. The term runs through Oct. 31, 1982.

The Regional Forum is a

30-member appointed citizens advisory group representative of the region. The group reviews plans from a lay perspective and facilitates citizen input into the decision making process.

Nolan is one of five Madison County representatives and states that he "will represent area to the best of my ability."

Honor local recruiters

Two Army recruiters who work at the Army recruiting station, 3675 Nameoki Road, have been honored for recruiting excellence during the fiscal year which ended Sept. 30th. Staff Sgt. Bill Houghton was named "top area recruiter." Staff Sgt. Virgil Cupples was named a "superstar."

The "top area recruiter" award was presented by Brigadier Gen. Donald W. Connally, U.S. Army Recruiting Command deputy commanding general, and the "superstar" award by Lt. Col. Joseph M. Lukitsch, U.S. Army, St. Louis District recruiting commander, at a ceremony in St. Louis.

SHORT CAUSES FIRE

A short in the wiring is believed to have started an auto fire at 6:30 p.m. Saturday in the Tri-Mor Bowl parking lot. An estimated $600 damage was done to a 1974 Oldsmobile owned by Vivian McNeite, Madison.

Religious Center at SIUE plans Christmas activities

Several special activities are being planned at the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Religious Center to help spread the joy of Christmas, according to Kenneth Stewart, a campus minister.

"As an Advent project, we have decided to assist a needy family who wouldn't have a very joyful Christmas without our help," said Stewart. "We are collecting money, food, clothing, and toys to make this family's Christmas a joyful time."

Stewart said community members are welcome to contribute goods to the cause.

Choir members, catechism students, and congregation members are also planning to go Christmas caroling at nearby hospitals and retirement homes.

"We would like to sing the joy of Christmas to those less fortunate," said Stewart, adding that area establishments should contact the Religious Center if they would like the carolers to visit them.

Also being planned at the Religious Center is a special children's Mass on Dec. 14 at 10 a.m. and the traditional Christmas Eve Mass at 11:30 p.m.

For additional information concerning Christmas activities at the Religious Center, interested persons may contact Stewart at 692-3246.

SIUE Art Auction Dec. 2

The annual Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Art Auction will be held on Tuesday, Dec. 2, at the Moose Hall on Goshen Road in Edwardsville.

Bidding will start at 7:30 p.m., following a cocktail party and preview of the artworks at 6:30 p.m. The paintings, drawings, prints, fiberworks, ceramics, and other pieces are original artworks donated for auction by faculty members and students of the SIUE Art and Design Department, visiting artists and artists residing in the community. Guests in attendance also may bid on donated services, other social or educational, and a variety of collectible items.

The Art Auction is sponsored by Friends of Art for the benefit of the Department of Art and Design at SIUE. Proceeds from the event will ensure continuation of the ongoing program of tuition and honor awards to students for excellence in the field of art history, art education or studio work.

Other programs include art exhibits, exposure of new talent in the regional high schools during the annual show and competition at SIUE, the ever-popular summer art workshop for children and the planning and organization of art oriented activities such as trips to major exhibits in other areas.

Artist to visit SIUE

Artist Jackie Winsor will present a formal lecture and hold informal critiques of students' art works at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Dec. 4 and 5.

The formal lecture will be held in Lovelock Library auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 4, and the informal presentations are scheduled at the SIUE Wagner Complex in Edwardsville at 10:30 a.m. Dec. 5. Co-sponsored by the Office of Cultural Arts and University Museums and the department of art and design, both events are free and open to the public.

Born in St. John's Newfoundland, Jackie Winsor earned her MFA degree from Rutgers University. Her sculptures have been shown throughout the world, including works displayed at an exhibit of American abstract artists in 1969 and an exhibition at the show, "45 American Women Artists," the Kunsthaus in Hamburg, Germany.

According to David Huntley, director of Cultural Arts and University Museums, Jackie Winsor believes sculpture should be taken away from the factory and returned to the hands of the sculptor.

"She is sometimes referred to as a leader of the second generation of minimal artists and uses materials such as twine, rope, logs, sticks, cement, wire and nails to create exciting sculptures that are deliberately raw and without embellishment," said Huntley.

For further information, interested persons may call 28-692-2996 or 1-618-692-3071.

News notes

Governor James R. Thompson last week announced a special investigative unit is being formed in the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement to lead an attack on the criminal dumping of hazardous wastes in Illinois. The new Law Enforcement unit will include 25 agents and related equipment at a cost of about $1.4 million a year. The investigators will work closely with personnel from the Illinois Department of Environmental Protection Agency and with Illinois Attorney General Tyrone Fahner and his staff to develop prosecutions of criminal dumping cases under the new law.

The Illinois Department of Transportation and the Illinois State Police announced a decrease in traffic fatalities for the month of October of 16.4 percent (from 189 deaths to 158). The provisional total of 1,659 fatalities for the first 10 months of 1980 increased 1.4 percent from 1,636 for the same period of 1979.

Director of the Illinois Department of Revenue J. Thomas Johnson reminded senior and disabled citizens last week that applications for Circuit Breaker benefits for the 1979 claim year are due by Dec. 31, 1980. Under the program, property tax relief grants of up to $650 and additional grants of between $50 and $100 are available to qualified citizens, Johnson said.

The Illinois unemployment rate registered 9.2 percent in October, up four-tenths of one percent from September's rate. The U.S. unemployment rate for October was 7.6 percent, up one-tenth of one percent from the previous month. According to the November Illinois Economic Data Sheets published by the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA), Illinois, like other manufacturing states, continues to suffer the effects of the current economic slowdown.

The Sixth Annual Lincoln Academy Student Laureate Award Ceremony, recognizing outstanding students from 54 colleges and universities in Illinois, will be held Dec. 13 at 11 a.m. in the House of Representatives chamber in the Capitol Building.

STEAL FROM CAR
Tony James, 14, Briar-moor Lane, reported at 12:15 a.m. Monday that a thief stole 24 eight-track tapes, a radio and a 150, a brown tape case, $10, and two car speakers, $50, from his 1974 Monte Carlo while it was parked outside Brunswick Tri-Mor Bowl.

CONGRESS APPROVES
On Aug. 2, 1977, Congress approved the establishment of a Cabinet-level Department of Energy.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture will increase the level of assistance it provides in donated foods and cash to nutrition programs for the elderly during fiscal year 1981 from 43 to 47.25 cents per meal, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Carol Tucker Foreman said.

"This will be a 9.87 percent cost-of-living increase in donated foods and cash assistance to comparable federally funded elderly nutrition programs," Foreman said.

The adjustment reflects the rise in the consumer price index for food away from home last year, and is mandated by law. The new level of assistance applies to all meals served from Oct. 1 to Sept. 30, 1981.

Nutrition programs for the elderly are run by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services cash-in-lieu of food to states taking part in these programs.

Notice of the beginning this year, Indian tribal organizations operating elderly nutrition programs will receive a comparable level of assistance in donated foods or cash under Title VI of the Act.

The cost of the cost-of-living increase will be published in the Nov. 21 Federal Register.

Group to study coping with holiday depression

To help plan and cope with depression during the holiday season, the Mental Health Services, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, will be offering another one-session discussion group on "Beating the Holiday Blues."

The cost for the group is $3 and enrollment can be arranged by calling the Mental Health Services at 877-4200 and leaving names with the receptionist. Persons deciding at the last minute they would like to attend will be welcomed, a spokesman said.

Phyllis Whitehead and John Johnson of the Mental Health Services staff will be the discussion leaders.

Training at San Diego, Marine Corps Recruit Depot in California. His promotion to private first class was granted for meritoriously service during basic training. He will be on leave for 10 days. Private Scott attended Granite City High School South until enlisting last August.

Association of School Boards re-elects Moore as director

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

George Moore Sr., a member of the Granite City Board of Education, has been re-elected a director at large of the Illinois Association of School Boards (IASB) during the association's annual conference in Chicago, which concluded Monday.

A highlight of the conference was a talk by State Sen. John Davidson (R-Springfield) in which he warned that if school districts do not do a better job of satisfying the public that they are "getting their money's worth," or the state legislature have to deal with the problem.

"I think school districts are better off finding their own solutions and I think a majority of the legislature wants to see local school board control, but we are getting a lot of pressure from taxpayers to force schools to be more accountable," Sen. Davidson stated.

He was one of several members of a panel reporting on "The Status of Minimal Competency Testing" during the convention.

Sen. Davidson predicted that a number of bills dealing with student testing will be considered during the session beginning in January, but it is too soon to know the specific contents of the bills, he added.

He said the eventual outcome, "Is anybody's guess."

The School Problems Commission is seeking recommendations and ideas from local school officials and the State Board of Education (SBE) has recommended to the General Assembly a policy requiring a comprehensive student assessment and program evaluation policy, using a number of methods of evaluation to measure the strengths and weaknesses of school programs and the progress of students, members of the panel noted.

The SBE policy encourages development of local district evaluation systems, not standardized, state-mandated testing. More than 30 states have adopted some type of minimal competency testing as a requirement for high school graduation, the panel added.

In another panel discussion, the administrators were told that school board members who rely only on the ballot box to tell them how good a job they are doing "have reached a low point."

IASB Consultant John H. Hinck stated, "There is some idea that board members are evaluated at the polls. If a board gets to that point, it has certainly reached a defeat at the polls, as an assessment of performance, comes too late to do any good."

"Boards can avoid that ultimate evaluation, if they evaluate themselves first," Hinck said. He outlined a plan developed by IASB and used by a number of Illinois school districts, which allows boards to evaluate themselves in terms of policy-making, communication with the public, evaluation of personnel and other areas.

"Taxpayers will not regain their faith in the schools, unless we make people accountable for their actions," Hinck said, urging boards to publicize their evaluation efforts.

Suzanne W. Humphrey, client services specialist for the School Management Foundation of Illinois, said during a panel on teacher evaluation that it is important that school boards let the public know their teachers are doing a good job.

"It is up to the board to set policy calling for thorough teacher evaluation. By setting the policy, the board lays the groundwork for demonstrating that teachers are doing a good job and provides, if necessary, a valid basis for dismissal," she said.

"A board policy also lets the staff and community alike know that the board intends for the district to be accountable to the public," she added.

The panel discussions were among discussions of nearly 300 problems during the three-day conference. Also among the speakers were State School Superintendent Donald G. Gill and A. Graham Down, executive director of the Council for Basic Education. More than 900 school boards voluntarily belong to the IASB, which seeks to provide important information and training for school board members.

GEORGE MOORE SR.

Elizabeth M. Cleaver, president of the Peoria School Board, was re-elected to her second term as president of IASB during the convention and James W.

Sanders of the Marion School Board was elected to his first term as vice-president.

Directors at large, in addition to Moore, are Ralph Godzicki of the Deerfield School District, Joan W. Levy of the New Trier Township High School District and Emil Bernard of the Spring Valley District.

Moore, who was first elected to the Granite City Board of Education in 1965, has served on the governing board of the Southwestern Division of IASB for several years and was chosen as a member of the Board of Directors in 1979.

He has served on several IASB committees and task forces, most recently to the IASB committee monitoring activities of the Education Services Region Study Group.

Moore resides at 1929 St. Clair Ave.

Historic courses at SIUE

The department of social studies at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer three special interest courses during the winter quarter, including courses on Japanese history and culture, the Medici family in Italy, and great European trials, assassinations and executions.

Shogun (HIST 300-2 Sec. 2) will be offered on Wednesdays from 2:30 until 4:20 p.m. in Room 1307 of Peck Classroom Building. The course will center around James Clavell's novel, "Shogun," which provides the focus for an examination of Japanese history and culture. The course also will explore Clavell's implication that the West has something to learn from the Japanese.

The Medici Family in Italy (HIST 300-2 Sec. 1) will be studied on Mondays from 2:30 until 4:20 p.m. in Room 1307 of Peck Classroom Building. It will cover the origin and growth of the commune of Florence and the rise to power of Cosimo dei Medici. The subsequent activities of members of the family as politicians, patrons, humanists, and popes will be discussed. There also will be an assessment of the significance of family rule in Renaissance Italy.

Great Trials, Assassinations and Executions (HIST 300-2 Sec. 3) will be offered on Thursdays from 11:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. in Room 0307 of Peck Classroom Building. This course is being offered for the first time during the winter quarter. Each quarter, a number of famous trials, assassinations and executions in European history will be selected for discussion. During the winter quarter, the cases of Socrates, Julius Caesar, Jesus Christ, Joan of Arc, Thomas Becket, and Alfred Dreyfus will be among those examined. Additional information may be obtained by contacting the SIUE department of historical studies at 1-618-692-2414.

MADISON BURGLARY
A $150 television, a 12-gauge shotgun, 16 magazines and a $30 digital watch are known missing after a burglary at the home of Roma Fowler, 1003 Washington Ave., Madison, which was discovered at 12:10 a.m. Saturday. The victim's dog, which had been missing the previous two days, also was found inside the home. There were no signs of forced entry.

CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENT. Fr. Tom Singer, OMI, director of the National Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows and Elroy Rule, president of the Shrines Layman's Association, are shown visiting with two of Bob Kramer's Marionettes. Twelve marionettes will be featured in this year's Children's Show during the 11th Annual Way of Lights, Nov. 28 through Jan. 4. The puppet show, "Christmas at the Mistletoe's," will be performed Monday through Thursday and a Christmas film, "Christmas Is," will be shown Friday through Sunday. Both Children's Shows will be shown continuously from 6 to 9 p.m.—free of charge.

Community services tonight

A community Thanksgiving service will be held at the Namecki Presbyterian Church, 1700 Pontoon Road, at 7 p.m. today, when an offering of food items will be taken by the deacons for inclusion in Christmas baskets.

In another program at the church, a Youth Supper Club will meet Sundays at 6 p.m., starting Nov. 30, with a series of stimulating programs to be presented, according to the Rev. Don F. Pierson, pastor.

"God's Gift of Love" is the theme of this year's Advent celebration, the minister said, noting, "We are endeavoring to provide a rich opportunity for worship and fellowship for the entire church family."

He said those in the community looking for a church home will find "a warm welcome." Sunday school begins at 9:30 a.m.

and worship services at 10:45 each week.

In preparation of the holiday season, the Children's Choir is practicing several selections under the direction of Mrs. Leon (Beverly) Scroggins and Mrs. David (Connie) King. The group meets at 6:30 p.m. each Wednesday.

"A Christmas Festival" will be presented Dec. 21 by the Sanctuary Choir, directed by Mrs. Scroggins. Rehearsals are held Wednesdays at 7 p.m. and interested persons are invited to join.

"Waiting for the Sunrise" will mark the opening message in the Advent season, followed by "Missing the Messiah," Rev. Pierson said. The series will conclude with the New Year's message, "Out Where the New Begins," on Jan. 4. The pastor said "Advent Events" for the entire church family will begin each Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, with a different group from the congregation providing light refreshments during the fellowship period. The Advent series starts Sunday, Nov. 30.

Legislation would provide funds to solve subsidence

Legislative Action needed to resolve severe mine subsidence complications at the State Police headquarters in Maryville was sponsored Friday by State Senators Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) and David Regner (R-Mt. Prospect).

Due to growing concern over the deteriorating conditions of the headquarters and adjacent communications tower, the Senators jointly sponsored an amendment to Senate Bill 2036. Its adoption, and passage of the bill, will authorize the transfer and use of $326,000 in the Department of Law Enforcement's current budget to address the serious subsidence problems.

Legislative action is required, according to the Senators, because additional deterioration would pose increasing threats to the safety of 86 officers and 27 code employees assigned to the headquarters.

They said it also is extremely important that vital police communications and services are not disrupted. The area involved includes Madison, St. Clair, Monroe, Clinton and Bond Counties.

Because ground water would intensify subsidence, the 350-foot communications tower must be dismantled and alternative communications established before next spring. The need to relocate the headquarters has yet to be determined. However, it is necessary among contingency plans currently under consideration.

ATTEND CONVENTION. Phil and Betty Barnett of Madison have returned from a professional pest control convention in New Orleans, La.

Leo Konzen on regional board

Fifteen persons have been elected to the board of directors of the St. Louis Regional Commerce and Growth Association, including Leo H. Konzen, Granite City attorney.

Named to fill unexpired terms on the board are William V. Bidwell, president of the St. Louis Football Cardinals, and Carrie A. Hill Jr., chairman and chief executive officer, Stix, Baer & Fuller Co. Terms for both expire next year.

Those elected to serve full three-year terms are:

Robert J. Baer, executive vice president and general manager, United Van Lines, Inc.; William H. T. Bush, president, Boatmen's National Bank; Nick P. Chiapelas, president, Keeler-Morris Printing Co., Inc.; Richard F. Ford, president and chief operating officer, First National Bank in St. Louis; Robert E. Frame, president, Consolidated Grain & Barge Co.

Also, S. Lee Kling, president and chairman of the board, Landmark Bancshares Corp.; Leo H. Konzen, attorney, Leaders, Robertson & Konzen; Leslie F. Loeve, president, South-west Truck Body Co.; Gerald K. Presberg, chairman of the board, St. Louis County Water Co.; Arthur R. Williams, manager, Shell Oil Co. Wood River Refinery; Cassell Williams, president directing business representative, Machinists and Aerospace Workers Local 837, and John A. Wright, president, St. Joe Lead Co.

The board members elected to full terms were nominated by a committee and elected by the members of the regional economic development organization. Their terms will begin Jan. 1.

The two named to part terms were chosen by the present directors and take office immediately.

Annual art auction at SIUE

The department of art and design at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will hold its annual art auction Dec. 2 at the Edwardsville Moose Hall, according to Don Davis, chairman of the department.

St. Bartholomew's Thanksgiving eve services tonight

The Rev. Wilbur L. Lear, announced today that the traditional Thanksgiving eve celebration of the Holy Eucharist will be held at St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church, 22nd Street and Grand Avenue beginning at 7 p.m. on Wednesday.

Mrs. Kevin Nicol will preside at the organ to accompany traditional hymns of Thanksgiving and will also play as her prelude "Nun Danket Allen Gotte" by J.S. Bach and "The Lost Chord" by Sullivan.

Rev. Lear will be the celebrant and preacher. On Thanksgiving Day, a similar service will be held in St. Thomas Episcopal Church, Glen Carbon at 9 a.m. with Mrs. Rodney Shaake at the organ.

Man denies he beat woman

Michael L. Tucker, 26, of 2104 Washington Ave., who was charged last week with criminal damage to property and battery, denied Monday that he beat a local woman and kept her from leaving the house for eight hours.

Tucker admitted he broke into the house because he wanted to talk to the woman. He said he talked with her and both of them went to sleep. He denied also that he threatened the woman.

He said the woman took her child to school and he then left the apartment.

The woman told police the man had broken a window to get in and that he had beat her and threatened her.

Attend pest control meet

Phil and Betty Barnett, Barnett's Tox-Eol, Madison, participated in extensive programs in professional pest control procedures at the National Pest Control Association's annual meeting in New Orleans last week.

Workshops and seminars on the latest technology in controlling such pests as termites, roaches, ants and rodents were highlighted at the meeting. There also were exhibits and demonstrations by manufacturers and distributors of new products and application techniques.

NPCCA represents more than 2,600 pest control operators serving government, industry, a variety of businesses and homeowners, a clientele ranging from hotels and restaurants, airlines and hospitals to grocery stores, storage facilities and warehouses, meatpacking and food processing plants, and apartments and private dwellings.

It provides its members with continuing expertise on safe and environmentally sound procedures in curbing infestations by pests which threaten health, safety and property.

Ends gun course

Navy Gunner's Mate First Class Jerry J. Kovach, the son of William F. and Ann M. Kovach, 3239 Westchester Drive, has completed an advanced gunner's mate course.

The five-week course was conducted at Navy Service School Command, Great Lakes, Ill., and was designed to provide gunner's mates with the working knowledge of preventive and corrective maintenance for the five-inch, 54-caliber gun.

Students received instruction on the operation and preventive maintenance of the gun's power drive and automatic loading system. Also, during practical exercises, they tested and adjusted various components of the gun and were required to locate and correct common problems associated with it.

A 1968 graduate of Granite City Senior High School, Kovach joined the Navy in January, 1969.
